CASSIDY IS RELEASED

LAWYER CONVICTED IN CITY GRAFT CASE FREED FROM PRISON

Attorney James T. Cassidy is to be released on parole from the House of Correction at Deer Island to-night. The papers authorizing his release are now in the hands of Penal Institutions Commissioner Vernon Skinner.

The papers came from the office of District Attorney Hill this forenoon and were sent to the Commissioner for his signature. In cases of parole where the papers are signed by the District Attorney and the Probation Officer, the Penal Institutions Commissioner must concur. Skinner's signature, therefore, is merely a matter of outliner.

Commissioner Skinner was not in his office when the messenger with the parole papers arrived. They were immediately forwarded to him at Deer Island.

It is understood that the recommendation of parole come from District Attorney Hill. The procedure is for the district attorney to consult with the probation officer and if they do ide that the ends of justice have been satisfied they then recommend the parole of the prisoner.

The difference between the parole and a pardon is that Cassidy, if he commits any crime between now and the time when his sentence would have expired, may be made to serve the rest of the term in addition to whatever sentence he may receive for the crime.

Cassidy was sentenced last June for one year. His term would have expired next June. He was convicted with Lee F. McCullough, former president of the City Council, for conspiring to defraud the city of $200.

The conviction came as the result of a sensational scene by the Finance Commission. The specific charge against the two was that they presented a bill to the city for a set of Massachusetts statutes for the office of the president of the Common Council, which was paid by the city treasurer. It was proven that the books were never received. McCullough is now serving two years on Deer Island.

JAMES T. CASSIDY, PAROLED TO-NIGHT FROM DEER ISLAND

PASTOR'S WIFE ON STAND IN DIVORCE SUIT

BIG FIGHT CONFAB IS DELAYED

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Monroe Goldwater, manager of Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight, today conferred with James J. Jeffries' manager, Sam Berger, at the Hotel Albany. Little and Johnson had arrived early in the day from Chicago. It was announced after the conference that the details of the championship battle would probably be decided on at a conference to-morrow afternoon.

Jeffries and Johnson did not meet to-day and Jeff said he had no desire to rush the proceedings through to-day. He put to part of his time at Jack Cooper's gymnasium. There, while at work, he said:

"To-morrow afternoon's conference will be time enough to go into the details. I think the preliminaries can be speedily arranged."

A large delegation of Johnsonites were at the Grand Central station when the Twentieth Century arrived rolled in, all eager to get a glimpse of the champion. They crowded about the entrances and forced the police to form a ring, holding them back until Johnson and his party were escorted to the automobile of "Baron" Wilkins, the most prominent negro sporting man of the city, and who hurried to Wilkins's resort in West Thirty-fourth street, where he declared he will make his head quarters while in New York.

A big crowd followed the car from the station, and at the Wilkins place there was another mob ready to welcome the fighter.

When questioned regarding his match with Jeffries, Johnson said:

"I hope Mr. Jeffries is still in town, for I have important business with him. Yes, the thing will not take long now, and the quicker it is over with the better it will suit me."

After the articles are signed the first real bid for the battle will be made by James Coffroth of San Francisco, of course, up to date, there have been a lot of Jim Crow bids and offers, but they have all been more or less "phoney" or advertising schemes or fake offers from goose neck sports trying to get on the map by making a bid for the fight.

The latest of these to explode was from one N. S. Needham of Cushing, Cal., who

TWIN GRAVES FOR FLETCHER AND HIS WIFE

Unconscious of the frightful double tragedy that has deprived her of her young father and her girl mother, Billie Jean Fletcher, three years old, whose father killed her mother and himself, was taken to her paternal grandmother's home to-day. They will try to keep from her for over the tragic story of her parents' death. The little child, now with Mrs. Cassie Fletcher at No. 24 Tower street, Forest Hills, cried for "mamma" and "papa" and asks "why don't they come home?"

The little one can talk surprisingly well for one of her years. She knows that "papa" struck "mamma," and "bye bye," on she doesn't, know that "papa," in a fit of jealous rage took yesterday in the Batavia street apartment of "the only friend I have" as the child calls the wife of Miss Diana Sahourin—in Batavia charmingly sweet she can look when pouting, shot her self and then killed himself.

Strangely enough, it was the mother of the man who committed the double tragedy that made the baby a helpless orphan, who took the little one away.

Mrs. Cassie Fletcher, who has the little one with her as her only comfort at her Forest Hills home, is prostrated to-day.

"My young assistant and the child wife are buried together. A double funeral will be held at 1 o'clock to-morrow afternoon from Waterman's undertaking rooms at Forest Hills.

HANGS SELF; IS CUT DOWN.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 28.—After failing to induce his wife to join him in a death pact, Joshua Hinton, a well-known Sunday school teacher, to-day hanged himself. He was cut down in a precarious condition and will probably die.

OTTO MUELLER, WHO CONFESSES KILLING WIVES

3 BROOKFIELD KILLINGS LAID TO 'BLUEBEARD'

BROOKFIELD, Oct. 28.—The Newton tragedy, in which a crafty farmer Francis O. Newton, his wife and sixteen-year old daughter, Elsie, were murdered thirteen years ago, is about to be cleared up it is thought by the officials, as the result of the partial identification of Otto Mueller, alias Frederick Gebhardt, accused of whole sale murders in New York and elsewhere, and Paul Mueller, who is wanted here for the Newton tragedy.

By the identification a career of sensational crime and murder has been unearthed, which has been seen, being reminiscent of the notorious Hoch and Holmes murders. Mueller has already confessed the slaying of Axel Luther, whom he murdered to get her money, and two other killings. The police have traced several other crimes to him.

Family of Three Slain.

The Brookfield police have now come to the conclusion that he is none other than Paul Mueller, for whom they have searched this and foreign countries for the past thirteen years.

Paul Mueller was a foreigner who worked for Newton, a well-to-do farmer near West Brookfield. In the morning of January 10, 1896, Newton, his wife and young daughter were found murdered and Mueller had disappeared. It is believed that he crept upstairs and killed them while they slept. He was traced to West Brookfield, where he took a train for New York.

The crime happened just at a time when Gebhardt, alias Mueller, had disappeared from New York, after swindling a women friend several thousand dollars.

Long Search Was Futile.

"The police sought for Mueller for a long time," said Chief of Police Matthews of Worcester to-day. "Several suspects were arrested in different parts of the country and descriptions were sent back at them, but they were not the right men. No trace was ever found of Mueller.

"I have also had a record of Gebhardt, and it seems that the Gebhardt, alias Mueller, under arrest now in New York also had a record abroad."

When the police were searching for Mueller they did not think to look in Sing Sing. At that very time a man under the name of Schaefer, from the New York police say now was none other than Mueller, was serving fourteen years for swindling Lena Weissner, whose confidence he obtained by professing love to her.

Did Time in Sing Sing.

He was sent to Sing Sing May 11, 1896, just four months after the Newton murder here. He married Anna Luther under the name of Otto Mueller, and has

MOTHER TELLS OF SUIT CASE GIRL'S DEATH

FALL RIVER, Oct. 28.—Frank L. Hill, herb and skin doctor, was held to-day by Judge eDonogh for the action of the Grand Jury on the charge of murdering Miss Amelia St. Jean, the pretty Woonsocket girl, whose mutilated body was found scattered about Tiverton. He was sent back to a cell, and it is probable that his case will be heard next month by the Grand Jury.

Mrs. Joseph St. Jean, mother of the slain girl was one of the witnesses to-day. She looked frail and worn. In a low voice she told how she had identified the dismembered remains of her daughter. By a birth mark on the girl's back and a scar on her hand, which she had not seen when the remains were first shown to her, she positively knew that it was indeed Amelia when she saw her the second time.

While the bereaved mother told her story Hill sat with his eyes on the floor or gazing straight in front of him. He attention seemed to make a more serious impression on him to-day than heretofore. Yesterday he smiled and even laughed. He did neither to-day.

Court House Thronged.

The court house was jammed and hundreds were turned away at the doors. Detective Shea told about finding a putty knife in Hill's office, and that there were stains on it.

Isidore Mussoli, the fruit dealer, who occupies a part of Hill's office and who told yesterday about Hill removing a suit case and box from his office on Friday evening, October 8, the day Miss St. Jean disappeared, was recalled to the stand. Attorney Huggins for Hill asked:

Q.—Didn't Hill caution you about allowing girls to enter your store? A.—Yes, I after he changed this answer to—No.

Q. What kind of a buggy did Hill have when he took the suit case and box away? A. It had two seats. It was black or dark blue. I do not remember.

By District Attorney Swift—Have you been threatened by an Italian since yesterday, if you gave any more testimony? A.—No, I have not.

Tells of Hiring Buggy.

James Nolan, employed at the livery stable of M. B. Lynch, was called to the stand. He said that Hill got a rig there on Friday, October 8.

"I wasn't there when he got the rig, but I was there when he returned. It was from 9 to 9:45 at night. He had a small box, an open buggy, black body and red running gear with one seat.

M. B. Lynch said that Hill had hired the horse and buggy on not certain of the date. Hill said he wanted a buggy for two or three weeks. No record was made of the transaction. He hired a buggy from Paul Medeiros a few months.

Inspector Perron told about taking Mrs. Eva Lawton to the morgue, where she identified the various articles of clothing found on Roy street road as that belonging to Miss St. Jean.

Questioned about his search of Hill's office the inspector said that he had seen a small suit case and a box there, but that he was not sure if similar to those in the murder case.

Mother Takes Stand.

Mrs. St. Jean, upon taking the stand, said that she had viewed the remains of her daughter twice.

Q. The first time that you viewed the remains in Tiverton did you think that they were those of your daughter? A. They didn't look like her.

Q. You saw them afterward? A. Yes.

Q. Were they the same remains? A. Yes.

Q. Did you have a better view of them the second time? A. Yes, I was sure.

Q.—Can you say that after the second view that you were satisfied that the remains were those of your daughter? A.—I had no doubt now that the remains were of my daughter, Amelia.

Q. Have a photograph of Amelia? A. Yes, it is her; but her face was fuller when the picture was taken.

Q. How old was Amelia? A. She would be fifteen years old this October. The picture was taken a year or two ago.

Q.—Can you identify this white skirt when I show you? A. Yes it was after I gave it to Amelia before she came to Fall River.

Q.—How do you identify it? A.—By the bottom. There is a tuck in the bottom which I made because it was too long.

Under Cross-Examination.

Mrs. St. Jean was then cross-examined by Attorney Higgins. In reply to his questions she said that Amelia weighed about 120 pounds, was a little shorter than her-

VAHEY SAYS DRAPER IS FOE OF THE UNIONS

James H. Vahey, Democratic candidate for Governor; Joseph Pelletier, candidate for district attorney; Congressman Joseph O'Connell, and State Senator O'Connor addressed several hundred voters at P. and East First street, City Point, at 12:30.

The party of candidates and their companions were over to City Point in a big automobile. Congressman O'Connell in a lengthy speech eulogistic of Mr. Vahey, introduced the gubernatorial candidate.

Hearty cheers were given Mr. Vahey, who spoke at some length on the uniform hostility Governor Draper had shown to all bills before the Legislature which had to do with labor's interests. He told his listeners that the Democratic party had always been the consistent friend of the laboring men and their interests.

Mr. Pelletier was warmly received. His popularity with the crowds was evident from the start. Pelletier declared that Arthur D. Hill is misleading the people when he says that he is a candidate for re-election. He said that Hill had never been elected by the people as District Attorney, but that he had been appointed by Governor Draper to succeed the late John B. Moran under the orders of Boss Lodge. In conclusion he said that the Republican barrel was about dry and that Hill was spending money freely.

Congressman O'Connell closed the meeting. He took up Hill's statements of last night in dealing with the exhibition almost of Governor Draper for not appointing Assistant District Attorney Michael J. Dwyer to the vacant District Attorneyship when Mr. Curran had died. Hill had said that if the Democrats had really wanted Dwyer for District Attorney they should have given him their nomination instead of Pelletier.

Congressman O'Connell declared that Mr. Dwyer had written a letter in which he said that he didn't want the nomination for District Attorney because of certain personal reasons.

BOOKS IN STEEL CASE DESTROYED

It was admitted to-day by George H. Williams, treasurer of the Boston Bridge Works, a witness at the Steel trial, that the books of the corporation previous to March, 1901, were destroyed last December by vote of the stockholders.

The witness was asked to produce a record of the meeting at which the vote was taken. He replied that the record had been made on a separate piece of paper which he promised to produce. He admitted that he was present at the meeting and also admitted that he helped to destroy the books.

Attorney John Abbott, clerk of the New England Structural Company, decided that such a vote had been taken by the company.

Foreman George W. Cota of the jury in the so-called steel cases addressed Judge Harris at the opening of court to-day and announced that it was the unanimous sentiment of the jury to leave the matter of adjourning the trial to the discretion of the court. It was proposed yesterday to adjourn Friday until the following Wednesday on account of Tuesday being election day.

Foreman Cota said: "It is the unanimous sentiment of the jury to leave to the discretion of the court the matter of adjourning the trial Friday until the following Wednesday."

District Attorney Hill said that he would welcome anonymous on account of the peculiar situation in which he found himself. "I don't want to stand in the way," said Mr. Hill. "And am willing to go on to the trial Monday and Tuesday."

Attorney Hurlburt declared that he didn't have to make speeches every night so he was willing to go on. Judge Harris said that he would take the questions under consideration and would announce his decision on adjournment or would be made on Wednesday or not.

MYSTERY IN MAN IN COMA

The Relief Hospital officials, as well as the police of Quincy and Lynn, are attempting to locate the sons of Thomas Murphy, a blind man, who for more than a year has been employed in Hoogan's shop in Quincy and who is now at the hospital suffering from a cerebral trouble that has robbed him of his memory and keeps him in a coma practically all the time.

The man, who is about sixty-seven years old, applied to the hospital for treatment Tuesday and was unable to give his name or tell anything about himself.

For five months to-day the man was out of the coma and then the Lynn and Quincy clews were obtained.

A BATAVIA ST. EXPLANATION

Miss Kitty Howard, who lives in suite 1 at No. 38 Batavia street, does not wish to be confounded with a Miss Howard who was reported to have been slain in the Fletcher murder and subtitle at the Batavia street house on Wednesday afternoon. Myer Sternberg of Medford also does not wish to be confounded with a Mr. Sternberg whose name was mentioned in the first reports of the Fletcher murder and suicide at No. 38 Batavia street. As neither Miss Kitty Howard nor Mr. Sternberg ever in any way connected with this crime, the AMERICAN, at their request, calls public attention to this fact.

IRISH CHORAL SOCIETY.

The Cunnann Cuntan, the Irish Choral Society of Boston, has completed arrangements for its anniversary celebration, to be held to-morrow evening, in the hall of the Catholic Union. Among the concert numbers will be the following choruses: "Song of Ireland," Mertin; "Gypsies' Chorus," Balfe; "Farewell, but Whenever," Moore-Balfe.

WRECKED CREW 36 HOURS IN RIGGING

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 28.—Word was received here to-day that the schooner Canadienne, bound from the Magdalen Islands for this port, was driven ashore in Mousley's gole on St. Paul's Island and wrecked. The crew of seven men clung to the rigging for thirty-six hours before being rescued by a passing vessel.

TO-DAY'S CABLE NEWS

Up to Midnight, London Time

Countess Mackin Not to Wed Neapolitan Duke.

ROME—The Countess of Spottiswood-Mackin has left for America. She has broken her engagement to marry the Duke Delmonte-Marigliano who belongs to a noble Neapolitan family. The Countess, who was "pretty Sally Britton" of St. Louis, has refused many offers of marriage during her widowhood. Her father was James Britton, once mayor of St Louis. She married James S. Mackin, a New York State senator, and upon his death went abroad, where she has spent much of her time since. She was ennobled by Pope Leo XIII. for her charities in the Roman Catholic Church, and became a well-known figure in Paris, London and Rome. Her book, "A Society Woman on Two Continents," attracted attention.

War Cry Raised in Austria.

VIENNA — The Vaderland, a clerical newspaper which is reputed to have close relations with King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, prints a striking comment on the meeting of the Czar and King Victor Emmanuel at Racconigi. Condemning the pretence on the part of the government journals that the meeting was without significance, the paper declares that Russia and Italy have nothing in common in the Balkans except antagonism to Austria. The article concludes: "We are within measurable distance of war."

Ferrer's Creed in His Will.

PARIS—The will of Francisco Ferrer, who was executed at Barcelona for conspiracy against the government of Spain, as published here, charges the executor to continue the publication of Ferrer's works on the modern schools and education. The testator stated that history would vindicate his innocence, but he adjured his friends not to bother about his memory as on this life only was it worth while. He added the regret that his body could not be cremated.

Greece Ruled by the Army.

LONDON—According to the Athens correspondent of the Telegraph, the Military League, which dominates the government, presented an ultimatum to the Premier demanding the abolition of superfluous posts in the navy and the removal of many exalted but unqualified officers. The cabinet promised to recede to the demands and introduced a bill to that end in Parliament, but the league declared that it was inadequate.

$5,000,000 in German Land Tax.

BERLIN—The imperial government has asked the governments of the Federated States to hasten their reports concerning the introduction of the unearned increment land tax. The government will allow the municipalities a rebate for five years of the average yield raised by the unearned increment tax during the period of its operation. The measure is expected to raise $5,000,000 annually, and is possible of great expansion.

FRANK GOULD REMARRIED IS REPORT HERE

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Has Frank Jay Gould secretly married again, following the divorce decree granted to his wife late in the Spring?

This question is puzzling all Americans in London after the formal announcement from the Savoy Hotel, where the young American millionaire has been stopping for several days, and which reads like the announcement of a marriage. It was as follows:

"Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Gould and suite left the Savoy Hotel to-day for Paris."

The announcement was issued after the departure of Mr. Gould and he could not be located by telegrams to Paris to-day. The hotel management will make no comment except to assume the attitude that Mr. Gould's marriage is no secret and that he was stopping at the hotel with Mrs. Gould and their servants.

They fail to identify the woman they call the wife of Mr. Gould, except that she is Mrs. Gould and a remarkably beautiful woman.

It is recalled here that Mr. Gould showed himself to be impulsive in his wooing on the occasion of his first marriage to Miss Helen Qedley. They made up their minds to get married on a Sunday night.

Mrs. Kelley told them "all right," and a minister was called to the house next day, in face of the Gould and friends of the Kelley family were present and they were married twenty-four hours after they had made up their minds.

Perhaps Mr. Gould has planned another surprise, said a friend who lodged in the same hotel to-day.

Nearly everybody in Boston reads the AMERICAN.

WEATHER MAN ADMITS SNOW

Boston actually did have snow last night. The man at the weather bureau admitted the fact to-day. The flurry came just before midnight and lasted for the best part of an hour. It was not on the weather man's schedule and was unexpected. It can only be classified as one of the unaccountable things about Boston weather. The temperature was high and the flakes melted before they reached the ground.

After a typical Autumn day like yesterday's it will take something extraordinary as the weather man's word to convince many that a spell of cold. Anyway the weather man to-day said that no more was expected for at least three weeks. Snow flurries may occur in the Lake regions to-day.

MELLEN SEEN IN VAUDEVILLE BY DIRECTORS

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 28.—The issuance of the $50,000,000 new stock of the New Haven road was enlivened with song and merry jest, it was learned to-day, during which the nimble-witted Charles S. Mellen astonished his brother stockholders with the announcement that he stood ready to accept any "bulls," high or otherwise, that they cared to put over on him.

This quip by the president of the road was followed by a song in the molten tenor of Judge Robertson, a director of the road, and the last Democratic candidate for Governor of Connecticut, entitled "Highball Rolling on the Inland." The refrain of this ditty was taken up by other directors and visitors, and the gaiety and lightness of the hour progressed with vocal unanimity accompaniment.

When Mr. Mellen announced that he would be willing to receive any "bulls" that might come his way he meant questions, for a few pertinent and impertinent ones had been already thrust at him by some of the stockholders with a "I'm from Missouri" turn of mind. "Bulls" was merely high finance slang for queries, but Edward Robbins, counsel for the road, maliciously misinterpreted President Mellen. So when the President said:

"I'm willing to receive any 'bulls' that may come my way," Mr. Robbins cried,

"Then show your hindsights!"

President Mellen is pretty good himself at repartee, so he merely shrugged his shoulders and said:

"Those would not be objectionable." Just like that.

Some of those present looked shocked and there was an uncomfortable feeling all around until Judge Robertson lyrically relieved the situation.

COURT SAVES WALSH AGAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—The United States Court of Appeals to-day denied the petition of the government to send John R. Walsh, the convicted banker, to jail at once. The court, consisting of Judges Grosscup, Seaman and Baker, stated in their decision that there was no more likelihood of Walsh attempting to flee from the United States to-day than there was at the expected time, than at any previous time in the case.

The court indicated that it had no objection to the government keeping Walsh under surveillance. John R. Walsh, son of E. C. Ritscher, Walsh's attorneys, immediately took the news of the decision to their client, who received it lethargically. The decision means that Walsh probably will not go to jail until the Supreme Court of the United States has passed on his case.

ADAMS CRASH COMPARED TO BUCKET SHOP

"This is the worst case since the failure of Haight & Freese, the notorious cricket shop," said Thomas J. Barry, counsel for Arthur J. Sperling, a creditor, when he asked Judge Dodge in the Federal Court today to appoint a receiver for Alston B. F. Adams, a note broker at No. 53 State street, who is under indictment in the Maine city, now in New York. Adams's liabilities are $200,000.

The court was also told that efforts were being made in this city to bring criminal charges against Adams.

He resigned to Chipman W. Rowley, Stanley and then the creditors petitioned that he be adjudged an involuntary bankrupt. "A receiver is necessary at once," said Counsel Barry, when this case came on today. "There is a large amount of collateral placed among the banks which is not to be sold without notice. The court ought to have the direction of these assets."

Samuel Forrest, counsel for the creditors of the concern, who had lost some thousands of dollars, said the petitioning creditors participated in the building were burned to the ground. The Washington building were carried to the roofs of the Merriman car barns and there saved. The Bowker and Sands, for the present seem extinguished their fires with but slight damage.

The departments did hard work to confine the flames to the Bank factory, as the main building was wrapped in flames in a few minutes from the one of the explosion. John Blank, the cutter, member of the firm, estimates the shortage at not less than $10,000. He said they carried $25,000 insurance.

FACTORY FIRED BY EXPLOSION; $30,000 LOSS

The today did damage of not less than $30,000 in the split leather tanning factory of Rank Bros., Winchester. Flying sparks set fire to the roofs of Merriam's carriage factory and the residence of Fred E. Sands. The fire departments of Woburn, Medford and Stoneham were called upon for assistance by Fire Chief Symms of Winchester.

The explosion of a supply pipe to the kerosene engine set fire to the oily waste in the engine room and shot flames into the factory. Engineer John Carney and twenty employees of the concern, who had just gone to work, were forced to flee as the flames spread in every direction.

Where the alarm was turned in, Chief Symms telephoned to the Woburn fire department for help, and an engine and hose carriage was hurried from there.

As the flames spread rapidly and threatened the destruction not only of the main four-story frame factory building, but of a three-story A.T. in the rear, Chief Symms called for help from Medford and Stoneham, and two more engines and hose carriages were hurried to the isolated plant.

Fifteen minutes after the building were carried to the roofs of the Merriman car barns and there saved. The Bowker and Sands, for the present seem extinguished their fires with but slight damage.

The departments did hard work to confine the flames to the Bank factory, as the main building was wrapped in flames in a few minutes from the one of the explosion. John Blank, the cutter, member of the firm, estimates the shortage at not less than $10,000. He said they carried $25,000 insurance.

ASTOR REFEREE TO DECIDE IN WIFE'S FAVOR

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—It was learned today that Charles H. Young, referee in the suit for separation brought by Mrs. John Jacob Astor against her husband, has practically completed his taking of testimony, and that within a day or so he will make his report to whatever court appointed him.

It was said by the AMERICAN'S informant that there was every indication that Referee Young had decided in favor of the wife, and would recommend that a decree be given to her.

Roswell A. Morgan, the former wife of Shepherdson Bryce Morgan, and daughter of Mrs. Morgan, the defendant, is now established in her new home in this city with her two little children.

Mrs. Morgan was formerly Mrs. Hale Corwin Hill, who resumed her maiden name after her divorce from the late Lieutenant Arthur E. Hill, formerly on the staff of Governor Odell.

Roberts Morgan's matrimonial career began in Boston, where he married Corinne Roosevelt, sister of Theodore Roosevelt, in 1901. After finishing with numerous courts in this state, he went to Reno, Nev., where he obtained a divorce.

In April, 1905, Mrs. Corwin took a voyage around the world with Colonel John Astor was a frequent visitor. Mrs. Corwin was also a close friend of Mrs. Astor, and on Surf avenue in the big red cottage which was occupied by the widow of Wilson Ruth Ruiz, who killed herself in London recently, and is one of the chief witnesses in the Dorothy Russell, Florence Smith and Maude Driscoll suit.

Friends of Mrs. Corwin said to-day that they did not doubt that Mrs. Corwin's intimacy with Colonel Astor was of the most platonic nature, and that she intended to join Colonel Astor in his trip around the world, but changed her plans for the last three days.

DELAY STRIKE ON NEW HAVEN

With the receipt of a telegram from the union adjustment committee, in conference with the head officials of the road at New Haven, to "withhold the polling of the ballots" local officers of the Brotherhood of Railway clerks declare the strike crisis among the 2,000 clerks employed on the New Haven road apparently is passed.

The men had begun taking a vote to determine whether a strike should be declared following the refusal of the road to grant an increase in wages to its clerks. Their adjustment committee in the meantime secured another meeting with the head officials of the railroad, with the result that calls strike vote temporarily has been discontinued.

LOVETT HEAD OF SOUTHERN PACIFIC

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Robert S. Lovett, formerly right-hand man to E. H. Harriman, was to-day elected to the presidency of the Southern Pacific Railroad. Willis O. Mahl was elected vice-president. Before the announcement of the election of Lovett to the presidency of the Southern Pacific it was also announced that he had been elected a director of the Delaware & Hudson in which he again assumes an office left vacant for the death of Harriman.

WOMEN BAG DEER.

CHESTER, Vt., Oct. 28.—The woods in Windsor county are full of deer hunters, and news of a big slaughter of both bucks and does comes from all quarters. Two successful women hunters, Mrs. P. H. Mc-Mahon of this village and Mrs. N. L. Hyzell of Rockingham, have each shot a large, handsome buck.

OHIO LEADS IN PENSIONS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Ohio leads all other states with the largest number of war and naval service pensioners, the latest report of the pension agent showing that state with 92,507 men, women and children under government pensions. Massachusetts has 40,008.

Washing the Hair.

Doctor Lassar, the famous German professor, says the first step toward stopping the falling of hair and toward hair health generally is to keep the scalp often by washing. This should be done daily in the beginning, and as the scalp assumes a more normal condition, the head can be washed less frequently. But don't make the mistake of using ordinary soaps and shampoos. Use the one thing in all this world which is above suspicion, and that is Birt's Head Wash, the new scientific preparation. It is made of Refined Soap, Cochin Cocoanut Oil White of Eggs, Glycerine and Salicylic Acid. This formula is so generally recognized as proper that you are invited to ask any physician you know what he thinks about it. It removes the dirt, dandruff and disease germs, and under these improved conditions the hair takes on new vigor naturally.

STILL SEEKING HESTIA'S MEN

EASTPORT, Me., Oct. 28.—The patrol of the Bay of Fundy and the Atlantic outside in search for the lowboat of men who succeeded in putting off from the destroyer Isotta, when she was wrecked off Grand Manan, was maintained to-day. There was little hope of success.

It is believed that the score or more in the lifeboat are dead, making the death list at least thirty-five. Several of the vessels which have been speaking in their search of picking up the missing craft to-day abandoned the search.

FUND FOR THE Y. M. C. A. GETS A GOOD BOOST

The Y. M. C. A. building fund is now to-day reached $367,747. From noon yesterday until noon today $34,531 was raised. Among the new subscriptions announced to-day was one of $4,000, given by Colonel William A. Gaston in the name of his four children.

The fund of $500,000 must be raised by midnight Monday. The workers are now confident that the sum will be reached.

Realty Men Help.

A feature of the day was the announcement that Fred Holdsworth of Hughes & Holdsworth, real estate, had volunteered his services as a solicitor in the campaign and said that he was willing to organize a special committee among the real estate men of the city to raise $50,000. His services were accepted.

An enthusiastic meeting of the boys of the Y. M. C. A. was held last night at headquarters, and the boys' committee was organized and added to the campaign organization. Over 200 members of the juvenile members of the association were present and cheered brief and crisp addresses.

The scheme of soliciting was outlined to the boys by Secretary Gates, who explained that every member of the boys' committee would be provided with the following letter of credentials:

"This is to certify that John Smith has been authorized to collect pledges and money from October 28th to November 1st, 12 midnight, for the erection of a new Young Men's Christian Association building in Boston.

"Please give no money without signing pledge card. Help the boys to win out."

The boys will have as their order the securing of $5,000. A separate and smaller office has been installed in the main building of the Y. M. C. A., to indicate the daily progress made by the boys.

MEN IN THE MAKING

SOME SAMPLES OF Y. M. C. A.

Case No. 10—He was a nice looking boy, with rosy cheeks and that rugged and robust physique, typical of the country lad. He saw for many months the great automobiles ploughing through the sand of his native town on the Cape and, like so many other boys, yearned to sit at the wheel and assimilate space. Some friend told him of the Y. M. C. A. Automobile School. He came to Boston, secured a boarding place and took the course. He had some difficulty in securing his first position, owing to his bashfulness, but finally the Association located him with the owner of a small car. He stuck, created a good position after another was secured, each one more attractive than the last and with greater income.

He has driven thousands of miles, has been with one of the best firms in the State for the past two years, has toured Europe, and instead of the green country boy, he is a well bred, well groomed young man of good address, splendid habits, with money in the bank and steady occupation. He made his "job" a profession.

The proposed new and larger building will make more of this work possible. The project needs your help now.

Boys' Committee.

Talbot S. Ward, general secretary; Dorchester district, Gordon C. Hooper, captain; lieutenants, George Berry, Jr., George L. Bishop, Edwin L. Feliemen, Ralph Leland Fletcher, Kenneth S. McLennen, Richard son Philbrick, Bradford Sumner, Gordon W. Russell, E. R. Gifford, William Ford.

Whitetop District, Fanueuil Berry, captain; lieutenants, Russell Bacon, Joseph Berry, William A. Buckley, Max Giessansky, Howard Earl Bedlington, Alfred Wheeler, William Newton Jenkins, Jr., Donald Joy, Ralph G. Mahoney and Eric M. Nelson.

Roxbury District—Charles Damon, captain; lieutenants, William L. Gilman, Harold E. Currie, Harold Phillip Morrison, Waldo L. Cottinger, Harold Lincoln Bond, David Fichter, Frederick W. Reed, Thomas Robert Berry, Lawrence Forster Jones, Ole Olsen Spaulding, Winslow Purcier and Phillip Broughton.

Boston and other districts—Carleton M. Allen, captain; lieutenants, A. G. Eugene Dewey, Jr., of Brookline, Theodore P. Spear, Lawrence Hastings Cox, Robert Chanon, Paul Hackett of Watertown, M. Berwin Piper of Marlboro, William Perkins of Reading, Ira M. Rollins of Wollaston, Edward E. Sweetser, Jr., Reginald Moore and Edmond P. Beverly.

A letter from a young man who has been greatly benefited by the Boston Y. M. C. A. is as follows:

The Y. M. C. A.

Twelfth of a Series of Articles That Will Tell You Why You Should Help Raise That $500,000

FUTURE BOSTON IN HANDS OF ITS PRESENT YOUTH—NO. 12

By HERBERT KAUFMAN

A CITY must look to its young men for its progress. Its good work can only be continued by the good citizens of tomorrow. The future Boston is in the hands of its present youth. They must be sane, clear-minded, wholesome, strong of purpose and stalwart of body.

The Y. M. C. A. is making more good Americans than any other institution in the life of the Nation. It is an open gate to the bigger things and the better things from which premature responsibility and pressing need have denied the boys who have been forced into commerce before they have completed their educations.

It gives them a chance to counteract their handicaps, yet sets no creed and no sect, yet volunteers the duties of guidance to every comer. It assumes the place of father for the widow's son, teaches him the great rewards and the great dangers of life, it shows him the penalties that fall upon those who fail in their obligations. Its gymnasiums, its libraries, its lecture rooms are incubators of betterment. It is doing a big work in a big way, but the knocks upon its door are so many, and the strain upon its resources so great that it cannot take care of more boys unless it has more funds. It cannot extend its work unless it can extend its facilities. It must have more resources; it must have them now.

Every dollar that is contributed to its treasury is part of a key for a bigger future for some youngster who has begun life with a handicap. In the name of your sons, in gratitude to that Providence which gave you your show do as much as you can and DO IT NOW.

Back copies of the AMERICAN containing these articles may still be obtained at the AMERICAN office.

A touching his life was received to-day by General Secretary Meloffee. After a very touching introduction the letter ran as follows:

"You know what I was when I came to the association, and you know what help I have received. I can say truthfully, my friend, that I have received more from the association than I could give if I lived for many years to come. It gave me life. And there are many young men like myself who if they too knew the inside of the association, this world would be better.

"I give this $50 with the love that is in many a poor boy's heart."

Jews Give Help.

The first movement of the Jews of Boston to aid the Y. M. C. A. officially in raising the $1y fund was set on foot today when the members of Temple Israel, Commonwealth avenue, received letters from the president of the congregation asking them to contribute to the fund which the temple is raising.

This action was taken by the Board of Trustees of Temple Israel at a meeting yesterday, which was presided over by President Isidor Frank. A fund will be raised from the members of Temple Israel and then be turned over to the Y. M. C. A. as a subscription. Adolph Ehrlich of No. 31 Bedford street is the treasurer of the fund and will receive checks from the members of Temple Israel.

The following letter was received to-day by the members of Temple Israel:

Congregation Adath Israel,
October 27, 1909.

Dear Sir: The Board of Trustees of the Congregation have voted to ask the members of the Congregation to contribute to a fund to be donated to the building fund of the Young Men's Christian Association, the same to be given as a subscription of the members of the Temple Adath Israel.

As it is imperative that our returns be in at once we would ask you to kindly mail your check by return mail to Adolph Ehrlich, No. 31 Bedford street, Boston, and oblige.

DANIEL FRANK,
President.

PHYSICIAN WEDS NURSE.

CASTELLANE COMPROMISE ON CHILDREN

PARIS, Oct. 28—Both the Princess de Sagan, nee Gould, and her former husband, Count Boni de Castellane, were defeated today in their fight over the custody of their children when the Court of Appeals decided that neither parent was justified in the claim for their custody.

The court ordered the children to be placed in a boarding school, the Count and the Princess dividing the costs of the legal proceedings. A week ago Count Boni appeared in court to press his charge that his former wife, who was Anna Gould and married Prince de Sagan two years ago, refused to put the three sons of her first union in a certain boarding school, where she said conditions were inimical to their health.

The Count then demanded that his ex-wife be ordered to obey his wishes, and that she be fined $1000 for each day she kept the children from the school. The counsel for the Princess argued that it would be injurious to the children if they were put where the Count wished to have them placed. The court put the matter over till to-day.

The Count surrendered the children to his former wife on October 4, as he was obliged to by a court order.

PACKING PLANT FIRE.

Fire threatened the three-story wooden building at the corner of Fulton and John streets, occupied by the Armour Packing company. The fire started in a chutney closet on the second floor. A passer-by, who saw the flames through the window, sent in an alarm.

SUFFRAGETTES RUIN BALLOTS FOR ELECTION

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Bermondsey by-election to-day, the centre of the nation's political interest for the time being, was almost stopped by the suffragettes. Two of the militant women entered different polling booths and before they were overpowered had smashed bottles of corrosive fluid over boxes of ballots as a protest against the exclusion of women from the franchise. Both were arrested with difficulty, and after they had done great damage to the ballots.

The Bermondsey election is looked upon as an indication of the temper of the people and had aroused great interest. Throughout the campaign the suffragettes have been active, harassing the leaders of all the parties but the Socialist.

A constant procession of house-to-house canvassers has kept this section of London on the jump and the residents have been holding in their houses, afraid to answer the doorbells.

The carrying of suffragette tactics to the general public and giving all a dose of medicine which has heretofore been reserved for political leaders and office holders is a new feature of the women's fight. Mrs. Alice Chapin, one of the suffragettes, was arraigned this afternoon and remanded for a week. The other, Miss Nellan, escaped from her captors. An election official was badly burned.

In one of the boxes on which Mrs. Chapin threw corrosive liquid more than 1,000 ballots had been deposited. How many ballots were affected could not be told. The girl who was in the work of destroying ballots had not been carefully planned by the Women's Freedom League.

"The time has come for decisive measures," the league's secretary, Mrs. Edith Martin, says in a statement on the case to-day.

KOREA RISING TO CAST OFF JAPAN'S YOKE

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Southern Korea, excited by the assassination of Prince Ito, the Japanese statesman to whom the rebellious Koreans attribute the subjugation of their country, is in open revolt to-day and Japan will be forced to rush troops to the peninsula.

The announcement by the Tokio government that the mild policy outlined by Ito in the exploitation of Korea would be followed, has aroused the Japanese people and the press is demanding severe measures, reiterating its call for the absolute annexation of Korea. The making of Korea an actual part of the Nipponese domain instead of allowing it to remain nominally independent though tributary to Japan, has been the object of Tokio from the first move, according to the belief in the foreign offices of every European nation.

Japan's first move in this direction has been awaited with anxiety. That it is not far off is the declaration of a statesman who has closely studied the Far Eastern problem. A Russo-Japanese entente, reported in dispatches received here, adds to the complexity of the Korean and Manchurian problem. It is declared that the object of Ito's trip to Harbin, where he was shot, had as one of its subjects the completion of tentative arrangements for the agreement between the two nations. The Russian finance minister, M. Kokovseff, who was at Harbin to confer with the leader of the "Elder statesmen," was prepared to discuss the financial and commercial aspects of the pact.

Prince Ito's assassin was a member of the Korean revolutionary secret organization, it was learned to-day. The headquarters of this body is at Vladivostok and it has branches in many other places, including San Francisco and Honolulu.

MANY WOMEN DEALT WITH CUMMINGS, HELD IN FRAMINGHAM FRAUDS

Asking that "all guilty parties be apprehended and brought to speedy trial and punishment," the Framingham Board of Trade has adopted strong resolutions upon the town frauds, in which ex-Treasurer Lombard is implicated. The resolutions request the State and local authorities "to carry out the intent of this resolution with unswerving and stern purpose, showing favor to no man."

In the course of the resolution the board states its complete confidence in the future of the town and leads up to the request for relentless prosecution by saying:

"Our town treasurer, by wrongdoing has brought discredit and shame upon himself as a trusted official and his act may or may not have been assisted or participated in by others, has not yet known."

Cummings Dealt With Women.

That Charles S. Cummings, who is under arrest in connection with the Framingham note forgeries, devoted his efforts largely to selling stock in the Boston & Oxaca Mining Company to women is revealed by a perusal of the list of the company's shareholders. He explained to them that it was his desire that the wealth which would come from the mines should be enjoyed by the women of his native State. Most of the women shareholders reside in Massachusetts, but there are a few from elsewhere.

Miss Elizabeth B. Myrer of No. 5 Columbus square, who bought a large block of stock says that she has absolute confidence in Cummings. "I am positive that none of the money obtained from the sale of the forged Framingham notes ever went into the mining company," she said. "If a great sum like that was invested my friends, who are more heavily interested than I, would know it. I believe Mr. Cummings is honest and means every word he has said of the investment. Personal friends of mine have been at Oaxaca and have seen the property, and have assured me that it is certain to pay large returns. The public will find, I think, that Mr. Cummings is innocent of wrongdoing, and that the real thieves have tried to place the blame on him."

Mrs. Elizabeth D. H. Moody, who resides at the Hotel Ludlow, said that she bought her stock because of her acquaintance with Roland H. Barnes of Newton Highlands, the president of the company. She said she did not deal with Cummings, and threw into the waste basket all his circulars and other communications.

Following is a list of the women shareholders:

Treasurers of the various Boston savings banks, representing a majority of the banks and more than two-thirds of the deposits, have unanimously voted that in future Boston savings banks will not purchase country, city and town notes unless the validity thereof shall have been certified to by some financially responsible institution. A treasurer of a leading Boston savings bank says:

"We have been trying to get the banks to take this stand for some time, but it sometimes takes an earthquake to wake up people to the necessity of making assurance doubly sure."

DARTMOUTH MAN TO WED DAUGHTER OF EX-GOV. M'LANE

MISS RACHEL I. M'LANE

MILFORD, N. H., Oct. 28.—Ex-Governor and Mrs. John McLane of this city have sent out cards for the marriage of their daughter, Hazel Ellen McLane, to John Alexander Clark. The ceremony will be performed on November 17. Clark is a Dartmouth graduate and with George Shipley, another Dartmouth man, both of class 1908, climbed to the top of Pike's Peak, Colorado, one night last June. They applied to Howard A. Robinson, keeper of the Summit House, the hotel at the top of the famous mountain, for a room, and a quarrel arose over the price for lodging for the night. Robinson ordered the young men out of the place and drew a policeman's club. The young men tried to take it and in the trouble Robinson was hit over the head with the club three times. Clark and Shipley were arrested charged with assault with intent to kill, but finally prosecution was dropped.

EVA TANGUAY VERY ILL WITH HEART FAILURE

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Eva Tanguay, the vaudeville headliner and comedienne, is seriously ill in her apartments, No. 54 Morningside avenue west, and may never appear on the stage again. She is suffering from heart failure and paralysis of the vocal chords and a series of other ailments. Her physician says that unless she exercises extreme care unfavorable complications may set in.

Miss Tanguay was able to visit her doctor for treatment until recently, but her illness took a turn for the worse Monday and she was compelled to take to bed. Her condition became so alarming that her sister was summoned from Holyoke, Mass., and has been in constant attendance since.

Miss Tanguay is barely able to pronounce even a whisper. She has cancelled her engagement with the "Follies of 1909" company, in which she has been featured since early in the season. When seen Miss Tanguay said:

"I am very sick. When I left the 'Follies' it was because I was too ill to continue, and not because of any jealousy that existed with other members of the company. I am anxious to see everybody get along, and reports to the contrary have done more to aggravate my illness than anything else. Why don't they let me alone? I don't ask favors from anybody."

WOMAN BADLY BURNED.

Terribly burned about the hands, face and body, by an explosion of a can of kerosene with which she was trying to start a fire in her home at No. 9 Town Hill street, Quincy, Mrs. Huldah Hirginbotham, aged thirty-seven is in a critical condition at the Quincy City Hospital. If she recovers she will owe her life to the bravery of Edward J. Hodge, a neighbor who heard the woman's screams and rushing into her home, smothered the fire with rugs and mats which he wrapped about her. Hodge was badly burned, but after saving the woman turned his attention to a baby which was in the room. The child was nearly suffocated, but recovered later.

HOLD MULLINS WITNESS.

Harry Harding of Revere, a witness in the Annie Mullins murder case, which comes up in the Superior Court at East Cambridge next Wednesday, is on hail, following his arrest on the grounds that it was his intention to leave the State.

RED CROSS SOCIETY FOUNDER IS GOING BACK TO OLD HOME

MISS CLARA BARTON RECEIVING PRIZE

OXFORD, Oct. 28.—Clara Barton, philanthropist and founder of the Red Cross in America, who has been passing the Summer here, keeps "open house" this evening for friends and neighbors, prior to returning to her Winter home at Glen Echo, Md.

Miss Barton is a native of Oxford, and is dearly beloved by the townspeople, who are proud of her lifelong achievements in many humane causes. Several years ago she purchased one of the fine old houses of the town, and since has lived here several months of each year.

She is still actively interested in various philanthropies, and is president of the National First Aid Association of America and of the Children's Star League, the latter society organized within the past year, in the interest of orphan children.

CATACLYSM DESTROYS ALL LIFE ON THE PLANET MARS, SAY SCIENTISTS

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Fresh changes of an extraordinary nature are reported in Mars by the Journal of the British Astronomical Association. That planet of mystery was nearer the earth during September than at any date since 1892, and in a more favorable position for observation.

The phenomena observed, says the journal, are altogether without parallel in the records of the past. Vast changes have transformed here and there the appearance of Mars' dusky areas. A gloomy, yellow veil has enshrouded immense tracts of the Martian surface, obliterating the markings.

Changes now in progress on the surface of Mars are of extraordinary interest, in view of the theory developed by Professor Lowell that Mars is inhabited by a race of living beings. He argues that the canals of Mars are works constructed by a dying race, a race menaced by starvation on a desert planet, to carry water supplied by the melting ice caps on the poles to the waterless areas near the equator, and thus to raise food.

It is suggested that if the markings have disappeared and the yellow veil has covered immense tracts on the surface there must have been some catastrophe on a gigantic scale, some cataclysm such as dwarfs the most violent earthquakes known on our planet. What is the exact nature of the cataclysm can, of course, as yet be only vaguely guessed, but it is worth notice that there have been other extraordinary happenings recently on Mars.

In August the southern polar cap was observed to have fractured. A dark streak ran all the way across it. About the same time a brilliant spot separated itself from the polar cap and covered one of the dusky areas in Mare, partly hiding it from view.

It may be that abnormal electrical conditions in the sun which, according to Sir Oliver Lodge, caused the recent magnetic storms on the earth, have had a far more terrible influence on Mars. These may have included forces that ended forever the struggle for life of the Martians.

J. W. ALSOP TO WED NIECE OF ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Joseph Wright Alsop of Avon, Ct., obtained a license today to wed Corinne Douglas Robinson, niece of former President Roosevelt. The wedding will take place November 4.

ALL STOMACH MISERY IS ENDED BY TAKING A LITTLE DIAPEPSIN.

If you had some Diapepsin handy and would take a little now your stomach distress or indigestion would vanish in five minutes and you would feel fine.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, out-of-order stomach before you realize it.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no undigested food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out of order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is at any drug store waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other stomach disturbances.

Students of Tech will operate the operative in addition. The engineering Society of Tech will conduct the doors of the institute will be open to visitors.

In all these departments actual work is to be going on, special arrangements having been made for running the machinery on Sunday and evenings. An opportunity will be thus offered to students of other colleges, heads of large engineering firms to get, under unusually favorable conditions, a glimpse of some of the methods by which Tech students are made experts in their respective callings.

In addition to the Tech exhibits already mentioned, there will be others by the 1915 Exposition, starting shortly to get all of the functions professional departments of the school.

'BLUEBEARD' MUELLER TOLD WIFE HE SLEW SEVEN OTHER WOMEN

most that rises on several other occasions, taking other first names, one of them Paul. In description, in habits, in name and in other points Paul Mueller, the Brookfield murderer, and Otto Mueller of Frederick Gerhardt, the New York murderer, are identical.

Gerhardt, alias Mueller, took Anna Luther to Europe, as he had at least two other women who became infatuated with him. On their return he took her to Jelip, L. I., where he told her that he would have to quit her, as he had a wife living. She pleaded with him and kissed him. While in her embraces he shot her dead and threw her body into a pond.

Some months later the body was identified. Much confronted by people of Mueller knew her and confessed to the whole awful story.

Under Third Degree.

Since both the police have been searching investigation of the case. According to the police, they believed killed at least two other women whom married into marriage. He showed a puzzling familiarity with Long Island tragedies in which women were killed and the mysteries were never solved.

What leads me to believe that Gerhardt is the possible slayer of the women," said Coroner Savage of Long Island, according to a dispatch received from there.

Today Gerhardt is on the police grill in an effort to make him confess the triple Newton tragedy of Brookfield. Witnesses from here will be asked to go to New York to see if they can identify him as the man who killed the Newtons.

CONFESSED KILLING 7 WOMEN, HIS WIFE TELLS AUTHORITIES

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—"I have killed seven women and I will kill you, too."

That was the threat and confession made by Otto Mueller, alias Frederick Gerhardt, to his wife, according to a statement by her today. The police declared that they are sure of proving Gerhardt one of the most brutal fiends discovered in a decade.

Gerhardt was haunted in the memories of his crime. In his ears the echoes of the death cries of his victims rang, forbidding him rest in his sleep he cried "Please" and "Police."

"He would jump off the bed," said Mrs. Gerhardt today, "and run to a window, where he would watch for hours, as if he feared some one were after him. When I asked questions he would threaten to kill me, waving a knife or clubbing me. 'I have killed seven other women and you'd be only one more,' he cried. He told me he was making a grave for me when he dug up an onion bed in the yard of our home. When he took me to the woods where he had slain Anna Lutney he was inspired to murder me, too, I know. But his nerve failed. He choked me and raved when I refused to sell my lots. He was plotting my death—the only thing that prevented him was the fear that the neighbors had heard my cries. But he would have done it in time. His arrest saved my life."

Nearly everybody in Boston reads the AMERICAN.

GOMPERS' FATHER, 82, TO BE GUEST

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, will be in the city on Saturday to preside at a birthday party, to be given by four generations of the family to his father, Solomon Gompers, in the Yorkville Casino in East Eighty-sixth street. The latter will be eighty two years old. There will be two hundred guests.

FOUR AUTOISTS INJURED.

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 28.—A Baltimore & Ohio railroad light engine collided with an automobile at a grade crossing near here today and seriously injured the four motorists, reducing the automobile to junk. The injured are: Dr. W. W. Lasher, Edward Wachsmuth, Albert Vanning and Rimond Vanning.

Health and Beauty Talks

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

Sally Ann: Hot baths are weakening and should not be prolonged beyond a few minutes.

Alice: You say that your sweetheart is drifting from you to go with a more attractive girl. Can you blame him when you confess that you have neglected to take proper care of your complexion? Try this if you want to win him back again: Get from your druggist 4 ounces of ammoniac put in a half-pint of hot water and add 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine. This makes a complexion beautifier that clears and whitens the skin without the use of powder. Apply to face, forearms and hands, rubbing lightly until dry. This ammoniac lotion is just fine for removal of pimples, cold sores, tan and freckles. It gives sallow and oily skin a pink and youthful appearance.

V. D: The best tonic I know for purifying the blood, arousing the liver and restoring lost appetite is made by dissolving an ounce of kardeus and a half-teacupful of sugar in a half-pint of alcohol, then adding enough boiling water to make a full quart of tonic. Take 1 tablespoonful five minutes before each meal and before retiring and it will strengthen and build up your entire system while relieving you of dullness, languidness, liver blotches and pimples. It tones the blood in excellent condition during winter.

Edith: Yes, most face creams contain oils or fats that may encourage growth of hair on the face. Use this complexion cream jelly and you need not worry. Get from your druggist 1 ounce of almondin put in a fruit jar and add half a pint of cold water and 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine. Stir briskly; let stand. If too thick, add water until it is of the consistency you prefer. Almondin cream jelly most satisfactorily meets the requirements of both cold cream and massage cream, and is inexpensive when made at home. It will keep the skin free from blackheads and invisible pores, perfectly soft, to become horrid and soapless. Good for chapped hands and face, too.

L. M.: Kerosene, salt cream and ordinary skim cheese usually yield to this treatment: Get from your druggist 4 ounces of luxor and mix with 4 tablespoonfuls of alcohol and add a half-pint of water. Shake bottle, pour small quantity upon affected surface and allow to dry, repeating treatment until eruption disappears and skin is restored to healthy condition.

Harriet: To make a never-failing flesh reducer dissolve 4 ounces of parmotis in a pint of hot water. Take 1 tablespoonful three times a day just before meals and that awful fat will go away.

W. F.: I advise using canthrox for shampooing in preference to eggs or any soaps, because with canthrox the hair dries more quickly and is left soft and fluffy. Just put a teaspoonful of canthrox in a teacupful of hot water and stir until dissolved. Then pour on the hair and rub well. It makes a quantity of fine, rich lather. Anything mentioned in my recipes can be bought from your druggist. If he hasn't canthrox he can get it for you from his wholesaler and will do so if he values your trade.

Viola: Yes, healthy eyes are clear and sparkling. If yours are dull, red and inflamed you need an eye tonic. Get an ounce of crystos from your druggist and dissolve it in a pint of water. One or two drops in each eye every day is all that is required. This eye tonic will not smart or burn and will give relief when the eyes are tired, inflamed or sore. It strengthens the eyes and will benefit you if you wear glasses.

Zella: As you are troubled with scaly scalp and falling hair you certainly need a good hair tonic to nourish the roots of the hair and restore the scalp to a healthy condition. To make the best quinine hair tonic I know, get from your druggist 1 ounce of quinoin and dissolve it in a half-pint of alcohol and add a half-pint of cold water. Rub in with the fingers until absorbed by the scalp and hair once or twice a week.

Q.: A good foot wash is made of a pint of water to which are added a tablespoonful of salt, a pinch of alum and a few drops of ammonia.

The Daily Papers Tell the Story.

The newspapers have kept you informed of what has been done at the Court House since my appointment as district attorney.

Ask any person who has had business with my office—whether Judge, Lawyer, Juryman, Witness or Accused—if he has not received fair, humane, considerate treatment.

There is lots and lots more work to be done.

Don't be fooled—Keep your mind and eye on the ONE point of this election.

If you voters of Suffolk County want a man for District Attorney who will keep up the work already started, I ask for your vote for that office on my record of work I have already done.

If you don't care what goes on I am ready to step down.

The Sensation of To-day

Smokes. REAL Cigars, filled with tobacco that makes you forget what you paid for them. Everybody is talking about 'em, because everybody is smoking 'em. They can't help it. True, we haven't packed 'em in fancy boxes, nor decorated them with ornamental bands, but we've hidden a surprise in each one of these plain little citizens. The first puff will make you wonder how we do it.

"HAVANA PLUMS"

Of course we have imitators. They flatter us. But a copy is only a copy. PLUMS are particular of the company they keep. The man whose taste is vandalized by smoking rank weeds won't appreciate PLUMS. They are for the man who knows a good thing. That's why they are so popular with the smokers of good cigars. It's not the name, or the looks, or the package—but the GOODS.

'WHIRLWIND' CAMPAIGN ORATORS GIVE VOTERS NO REST TILL ELECTION

More whirlwinds tonight. More to-morrow night. More Saturday night. More Monday night.

The Boston voters have no rest until next Tuesday. The democratic and Republican spellbinders have them in their grip and will give no quarter—no dinner nickel, nor anything else—but wash.

Governor Draper and his Republican orators owned Boston's streets and their halls last night. Speed records—for limousine and auto driving—were equaled. But last night's excitement will be nothing to that of to-night and the other nights up to the end of the State campaign.

Candidates Vahey and the army of democratic orators will hold forth in Boston tonight. A rally will be held in Rowe's Hall, Washington street, with Foss, Pelletier, Keliher and the other democratic spellbinders with orders.

Noon Rally on Peninsula.

Vahey, O'Connell and Pelletier held a noon rally today at the Walworth Manufacturing Company's store. Fifteen hundred streets, South Boston, Candidate Foss, meantime, was addressing a noon gathering at Pier No. 42, Charlestown.

To-day's noon rallies and to-night's rally in Charlestown were restful affairs, as compared with the Republican programs arranged for Democratic candidates for the rest of the campaign. Here is the noon program that President James Donovan of the Democratic city committee has arranged for Messrs. Vahey, Foss and Pelletier today:

Twilight—Ward 1, Central square, East Boston, Hall; Charlestown.

To-morrow night—Ward 2, Democratic headquarters, Charlestown; Ward 3, Ward 7, Friendship Hall, Washington and Rockland streets; Ward 10, Democratic headquarters, Dorchester; Ward 12, Clan-Na-Gael Hall, 247 Tremont; Ward 13, Democratic club, Ward 15, wardroom, Courthouse, Court square; Ward 16, wardroom, Municipal building; Ward 18, wardroom, Municipal building; Ward 19, Democratic club, Elmwood street; Ward 20, wardroom, Meeting House Hill.

Saturday night—Ward 21, Dudley Street Opera House; Ward 22, Friendship Hall, Quincy avenue and Centre street; Ward 23, Milton Hall; Ward 24.

Monday night—Ward 4, 1135 Boulevard Hall; Ward 5, Lyceum Hall; Ward 8, ward room, Bunker Hill and Lexington street; Ward 9, wardroom, old Franklin school house; Ward 10, wardroom, Hyde Park house; Ward 11, headquarters, 46 Charles street; Ward 12, Beacon Hall, Washington street; Ward 17, wardroom, Vine Street Church; Ward 25, Warren Hall.

Both Sides Going to Win.

While Vahey, Foss, Pelletier and the other Democratic big noises are holding forth in Boston tonight, some of the lesser noises will be corralling voters in Manchester, Stoughton, Sharon, Randolph, Woburn, Wakefield and Malden.

The Republicans, however, will not be getting squirrels in their backs. Deepest Prothingham, Hill, Malone, Stevens and others know how many others will where enough Republicans are undecided in Wards 15, 16, 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24. Republican lesser lights are working and sharpsetting for votes in Waltham and Marblehead.

Last night's rallies caused the Republican managers to assert confidently that "there's nothing to it; we'll win easily."

Pity, say the Democratic managers for themselves.

James H. Vahey, the Democratic candidate for governor, spoke at rallies in Amesbury, Haverhill, Lawrence and Lowell last night. He closes his campaign tour of the State, and at each place he was received with tremendous applause.

Governor Draper is the first Republican governor to speak at a rally in Ward 3, Charlestown, and he received a big welcome from his audience. He also invaded Lowell, Haverhill and Lawrence. He had big stamping grounds, and was greeted with much applause in Helpful.

Why Turn Down Dwyer?

In Charlestown the Governor said: "The Democrats say I played politics when I didn't appoint Michael J. Dwyer District Attorney. Why didn't they nominate him for the office this Fall if they felt so badly because I appointed the best man I could find for the office?

"I think it's a little tough for Mr. Pelletier to say such harsh things about State commissioners when up to two weeks ago he was a member of one and had been for some years.

In his speech at Newburyport Mr. Vahey asked what Governor Draper has done to help the farmers and the public in securing pure milk. He reiterated the question of the tables at Gloucester and Amesbury, which showed figures from the State Board of Health and went on and explained how thousands of cubic feet of milk could be had much pure cooling for milk becoming impure as a result of inadequate transportation facilities.

Lieutenant Governor Frothingham and Democratic Governor, accompanied Mr. Vahey and also spoke.

Political Rallies.

TO-NIGHT AT 8.

Democratic.

Boughan Hall, Charlestown—Vahey, Foss, Pelletier, Keliher, Mansfield.

Malden—Vahey, Foss, Brown, Hill, Cogan, Dewey, Everett.

Hudson—J. F. Fitzgerald, T. F. Vahey, J. H. O'Brien, Carney, W. F. Sullivan, Behan, Ferrell.

Wakefield—Vahey, Foss, O'Connell, Mansfield, Walsh, Foss, English.

Woburn—Vahey, Foss, O'Connell, Feeney, Keliher, Mansfield, Butterfield, Cogan.

Manchester—Richardson, Smith, Hoar, Russell.

Stoughton—Coughlin, Peters, Gallagher, Flynn, Donahue, Barton.

Sharon—Bethlon, Stewart, Burke, Hetson.

Republican.

Boston—Wards 15, 16, 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24—Draper, Frothingham, Hill, Malone, Stevens, Sullivan, Burgess, Hess, Guild.

Waltham—McCall, Weiss.

Marblehead—Guild.

Charter.

88 Augustus and Merrin's Corner, Lenox street—Plan Two.

Political Notes of Both Parties

Officials of the committee of One Hundred, burning mad because a rival is organizing Plan One and had made a speech for the so-called "Bosses' Plan," sent a messenger post haste to the Albion, asking if it was true. Some story decided to erase his name from the list of Plan Two supporters. Alas, 'tis true, was the brief reply that the Alderman forwarded.

"What Joe Lundy attacking me on the stump! Well, he'd better look out," said Pelletier would win," said Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald when informed that the keynote of the fill spellbinders was handing him out a few raps on the public stump. "Oh, you bet. It looks as though you were trying hard to win that office."

"Harmony for harmony" one of the spectators remarked at the pounding Democratic rally at Faneuil Hall when Tom Wilson, manager of District Attorney Hill's campaign and "Dan" Lasell, manager of the Democratic forces, came into the meeting together. There's nothing like dissecting before the meeting has got to say," said Wilson as he was beaten.

"While I admit that Plan One may be gambling, I do not think that it can make gains enough to win," says Street Commissioner James A. Gallivan, who is an ardent supporter of Plan Two. "Plan Two can win overwhelmingly, and I think it will. Two to three or five or six to one bets could be made and I think I will take two more bets when I now possible to every one I."

It wasn't such a long while ago that the Republican city machine sent word to Governor Draper that they were assuming a neutral attitude in the fight for charter revision. Now the speech of ex-Mayor Curtis, advocating Plan One is being sent broadcast through the mails by the committee and Herman Hormel is busy passing out Plan One pins. Neutrality has a very elastic meaning in the political dictionary.

"What are you doing, holding a rally?" asked Lieutenant Governor Frothingham as he came into the Kimball building and surveyed the number of Republican workers in discussion. "No," said one, proud of his connection with the Hill Campaign "we are trying to elect Arthur Hill District Attorney."

"Yes," replied Frothingham with a shrug of his shoulders, "and forgetting the rest of the ticket," said the Hill man, "not as bad as that. "Oh, yes," said Frothingham, "but I'm going up now to try to find the Republican State headquarters and see if I can't find some."

"Stop." The bluecoat held up his arm and rushed into the middle of the street to stop the big auto that was speeding through East Boston. "Don't you know you've got to sound the town and not blow your horn when you pass the street crossings."

The gang in the machine should have known the law, for it was a sound of orators for one of the candidates for District Attorney Hill, and on a friendly word of admonition, the officer allowed the buzz wagon to proceed, smiling to himself as he learned whom he had halted.

"Bill" Buston, who is one of the doorkeepers at Washington, for a Republican Congress, is doing a good job in charge of the Vahey headquarters at the Quincy House. Bill is there with the glad hand for everybody and, like his leader, Chief O'Connell of the State Committee, is strong on the conference idea.

"I wonder how long "Boss Lodge would stand for Hill if he could see him now," remarked one of the Democratic leaders as he left the Vahey headquarters yesterday.

LUNDY INVADES A RIVAL RALLY

Joseph Lundy, orator general of the campaign forces of District Attorney Hill, continued his gasoline campaign last night.

He went through Ward 8 in his automobile, making three speeches, went over the ferry, made four speeches in East Boston and wound up the tour in the evening by appropriating a Socialist rally in Chelsea square.

"Here's the people that have raised the price of beef," pelted the Socialist orator as his audience flocked towards the automobile when Lundy began to speak, and Wiley as he was beaten.

"While I admit that Plan One may be gambling, I do not think that it can make gains enough to win," says Street Commissioner James A. Gallivan, who is an ardent supporter of Plan Two. "Plan Two can win overwhelmingly, and I think it will. Two to three or five or six to one bets could be made and I think I will take two more bets when I now possible to every one I."

WHITE GIVES MACHINE HARD SMASH IN SPEECH ON TOM PATTISON DEAL

Every wheel in the big and delicately adjusted Republican machine created and rattled to-day from the effects of the pollhead forked barbed into its mechanism down Nantucket way by Representative Norman H. White of Brockline.

Unable to longer retain its indignation over the tactics of the machine in bestowing a man like "Tom" Pattison of Barnstable for Senator after his years of servitude in the House, where he was known as the most abject servant of the Nahant Boss, White is out openly on the stump advising Republicans to cut Pattison to pieces and elect anybody else. White, latter was defeated by Pattison in the convention by one vote and is privately and extremely resentful over the way that was secured.

They use terms like "stole" and "bought" and "trade" in speaking of it and are a unit in saying that such tactics are a libel on a real Republican.

Whites Are Not Relatives.

Mr. White of Brookline is in no way related to Mr. White of Barnstable and likes the stamp only on the broad ground of civic patriotism. He is telling the Barnstable and Cape Cod folk that they cogitate every honorable tradition by keeping a man of Pattison's caliber in the General Court, whether in House or Senate.

Representative White is particularly emphatic in his portrayal of how Pattison not only changed his vote on the floor of the House on direct nomination when he heard the crack of the Big Boss's whip, but how he was so far lost to all sense of the dignity of his position that he bragged that he stood "first as always," ready and willing to listen to the advice of Senator Lodge.

The years he was a member of the Committee on Public Lighting and once was its chairman, and in both capacities, as member and chairman, Pattison was a warm friend of J. Otis Wardwell and other Beacon Hill lobbyists. Pattison in his authorized write-up given out from $25 up, is described as fifty-five years old and a "retired banker," whatever that is.

Put Him Where He Was.

Norman White is advising the good Barnstable folk to return him to his own classification and from all appearances they will take the Brookline man's advice. Norman White's reputation as a man to be trusted and who, despite his own personal wealth, has no sympathy with the way some men of his class manipulate the General Court and who has there found every victims bill is well known.

He says he has as much right to go down there and try to bring about Pattison's defeat as has Representative Weeks after being beaten for a nomination as Speaker, to try and get him elected. He classes Weeks and White in the same column, both of the same type and ready to do anything for Boss Lodge.

Lifting some of White's unbroadcast record as a misrepresentative for several years, the Brookline man calls attention to the following in his own terse style:

"Ducked" People's Measures.

Not being recorded on 21 out of the roll calls in the session of 1909.

Ducking a vote on direct nominations April 28, 1909, although voting the same day on an "absquatulate" motion.

Ducking the vote on a bill providing for the punishment of law-breaking officers and agents of railroad corporations, but voting the same day for a bill allowing street railway companies to increase their capital stock.

Ducking the Hisgen anti-discrimination bill, March 30, but voting on another matter the same day.

Championing a bill to widen the Leach Canal, in Cambridge, after his own committee, harbors and public lands, had turned it down.

Trying to help the loan sharks in the Legislature.

Helping the "French King Roads Company" to get tremendous privileges in the Connecticut River in perpetuity, free of any fee to the Commonwealth.

"I warn you citizens of Nantucket," Norman White said in closing, "that this is a case where the whole State is watching you to see whether or not you are the type of Republicans who mean the eventual ruination of the nation."

HILL SAYS "COWARD" IS BEHIND MITCHELL

Political circles are all agog to-day over District Attorney Hill's speech at Charlestown last night, wherein he said that the conviction of Michael F. Mitchell should be placed not on his shoulders, but on "the coward who had participated in the prosts of what had been done and who allowed Mitchell to go to jail for a wrong from which, in all human probability, he derived no personal benefit." "Whom did Hill refer to as the coward?" is the question asked to-day.

BOSWORTH ENTERS SPRINGFIELD FIGHT

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 28.—Henry H. Bosworth has taken out nomination papers and may run for the Republican nomination for Mayor against William E. Sanderson. Nomination papers for aldermen were filed today by Henry Linker, George D. Chamberlain and John A. Denchfield.

ON JUNKET TO PANAMA.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28. All the members of the House appropriations committee except Mr Barkson of Texas, who is detained by the death of his wife's mother, will leave New York to-morrow for Panama, to hold a hearing on the estimates of the canal commission.

DEPUTY SHERIFF SHOT.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 28.—Charles E. Bichy, a deputy sheriff, was found dying to-day with a bullet wound in his head, sitting in a back room of the sheriff's offices. He died on the way to the Emergency Hospital.

OVERDUE BOAT SIGHTED.

The Boston schooner Calumet, whose non-arrival from Port Arthur, Texas, after passing through two hurricanes, was causing anxiety, is all right. She passed in by Highland light and headed for Boston at AUTOIST LOSES LICENSE.

Because of his running over and killing a boy in Worcester a few weeks ago Representative Norman H. White of Brookline will lose his chauffeur's license. The State Highway Commission voted to revoke it.

CUT THIS OUT

Recipe that Breaks a Cold in a Day and Cures Any Curable Cough.

Mix half ounce of Concentrated pine compound with two ounces of glycerine and half a pint of good whisky; shake well each time and use in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful every four hours."

The Concentrated pine is a special pine product from the laboratories of the Globe Pharmaceutical Co. of Chicago, but it, as well as the other ingredients, can be gotten at any good drug store. It comes only in half ounce vials, each enclosed in an air-tight case. Druggists sell it as "Concentrated."

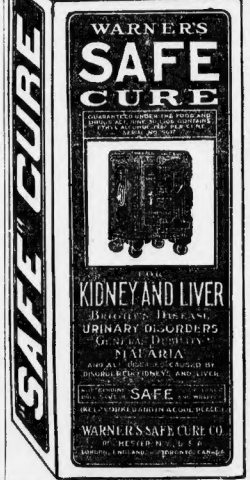
A prominent local druggist says that he has filled this prescription hundreds of times and that it is wonderfully effective.

Health in Every Bottle

Hundreds of Thousands of Men and Women in all Parts of the World Who Were Given up to Die of Kidney Disease Have Found Health and Strength and are Living Witnesses to the Truly Marvelous Effects of

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

A TRIAL BOTTLE OF THIS GREAT KIDNEY CURE WILL BE SENT ABSOLUTELY FREE TO EVERY READER OF THE BOSTON AMERICAN WHO SUFFERS FROM KIDNEY, LIVER, BLADDER OR BLOOD DISEASE.



At every stroke of the clock a human life goes out. Nearly one-half of all deaths are the result of kidney disease. Now men and women die out of every ten have kidney trouble. If in doubt, TEST THIS SIMPLE HOME TEST.

Upon arising in the morning put some urine in a glass or bottle. Let it stand for 24 hours. And if there is considerable white or reddish sediment in the bottom of the glass, or if the urine is cloudy or milky, or very pale in color, no doubt there is some disorder of the Kidneys, Liver or Urinary Organs present, and you should lose no time but get a bottle of Warner's Safe Cure, as it is dangerous to neglect your kidneys for a single day.

Warner's Safe Cure has a soothing, tonic, invigorating effect; heals the diseased organs, builds up the body and restores all the functions to a normal, healthy condition.

Cures Kidney Disease

"Having taken several bottles of your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure and Safe Pills for kidney and liver trouble, and being much benefited by their use, I feel it incumbent upon me to tender this unsolicited testimonial, and can conscientiously recommend this medicine to all affected with similar ailments."
Antonia M. Chavez, Tampa, Fla.

When the kidneys are diseased the uric acid is not expelled off, and this causes gout, lumbago, rheumatism of the joints, rheumatism of the muscles, rheumatic pains in the heart, rheumatism everywhere.

WARNER'S SAFE PILLS, sugar-coated, absolutely free from calomel or anything injurious, a perfect laxative, will cure indigestion, biliousness, Torpid Liver and Constipation. They do not gripe.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE is put up in two sizes and is sold by all druggists at 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle. Refuse substitutes, which contain harmful drugs and injure the system.

TRIAL BOTTLE FREE To convince every sufferer from diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood that WARNER'S SAFE CURE will absolutely cure, a trial bottle will be sent FREE OF CHARGE, postpaid, to any one who will write WARNER'S SAFE CURE CO., Rochester, N. Y., and mention having seen this liberal offer in the Boston American. The genuineness of this offer is fully guaranteed by the publisher. If you will write a full statement of your case, our doctor will send you free advice and a valuable medical booklet describing causes, symptoms and treatment of all diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Bladder and Blood, and many convincing testimonials. All communications strictly confidential.

N. Y. WOMAN WAGING WAR ON TAMMANY

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The women campaigners have the centre of the stage in New York's municipal campaign again today. Following the opening of headquarters by three combined women's Republican clubs, to fight for the election of Otto T. Bannard, the Republican mayoralty candidate, the Women's Municipal League is out today with a public letter intimiel to Tammany.

The latest phase of the campaign was brought out by the charges published in a magazine article that Tammany used "white slave" dealers as a part of its organization. The letter of the Women's Municipal League calls on Tammany and Judge Gaynor to disprove the allegations.

The letter concludes with the statement:

"We, the women of New York, will not rest until this is wiped out," referring to the alleged situation in the red light district. The document calls on "every decent man to cast his vote against the Tammany candidates." This entrance into the campaign of women is not looked upon with favor by the suffragists, who accuse Bannard of not favoring their cause.

Hector M. Hastings, attorney, declared today that Judge Gaynor's first reform move, which brought him into the limelight many years ago, the fight on John Y. McKane, Coney Island lecture, which was sent to Sing Sing, was the result merely of vote and fist fights between the two men in battle a friend of McKane.

Former Police Commissioner McAdoo defends the "white slave" charges and says that Tammany has always opposed the traffic. Other Democratic leaders take the same stand.

William R. Hearst, the City Alliance candidate, in his speeches last night, pledged himself to the destruction of Tammany Hall, whether he is elected or not.

Mr. Bannard escaped an accident that might go taking the wrong automobile. The one he was to have taken smashed.

NORTH DAKOTA ON TEST TRIP

With a maroon of only two inches on each side, the mammoth battleship North Dakota crept through the Fore River dock at Quincy to-day on her maiden trip without even scraping her sides. This feat, which occurred at 9:30 o'clock, was observed by thousands on the river banks and was greeted by a tumult of tooting whistles on the scores of craft that had gone down to see the start of the American "dread naught."

The North Dakota headed for the Provincetown mile course for the builders' trials and to familiarize the crew with the working of the ship. To-morrow morning the battleship will come to Charlestown Navy Yard, where a pair of new three-bladed propellers will be attached. Then the big vessel will go to Portland, Me., for official and final trials and standardization tests.

$15,000,000 FOR ROLLING STOCK

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 28.—The Pennsylvania Railroad is in the market for $15,000,000 worth of the largest freight cars ever used in the world for 1910 delivery. The specifications call for cars of "the battleship type." They will have twenty tons of steel in each car exclusive of the trucks and wheels, and will be built along the lines of the hopper cars for handling ore and coal, the carrying capacity of each will be 140,000 pounds, as against 100,000 pounds for the largest standard car now in use.

OPERA SELECTIONS ON NEW RECORDS

The Oliver Ditson Company has just placed on sale a large shipment of the new Victor records for December. Throngs are visiting the big store to hear the new numbers. The following list includes selections from popular operas including "The Candy Shop," "Harbor Lights," "Bettina Maid," "The Prince of To-night" and "The Dollar Princess." These operatic melodies are ideal for the talking machines by the Victor Light Opera Company, the Knickerbocker Quartet and other favorite artists. The new Harry Lauder selection, "Rode Red Machtosh," as well as thirty new double records. The Red Seal grand opera selections for November include songs by Madame Melba.

MARQUIS HERE TO WED MISS HENNING

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The Marquis de Charette, who is to wed Miss Augusta Henning of Louisville and New York, arrived here to-day on the liner Teutonic from Southampton. The wedding will take place here November 10. Miss Henning is a daughter of Judge James Willis Henning. The marquis is the son of General Baron de Charette, a hero of the Prussian war.

TWO PERISH IN NEW YORK FIRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. Two persons were burned to death and sixteen were injured, one fatally, in a fire which spread with almost lightning-like rapidity in the three-story building at Nos. 203 and 205 East Fifteenth street early to-day. The police declare that the fire was of incendiary origin.

More than twenty-five persons were rescued by firemen and policemen, who risked their lives in climbing ladders which were enveloped in flames and carried to the street the helpless occupants of the house. Four persons escaped by a window sill until their clothing caught fire were forced to jump, but none were killed.

Charcoal Lozenges Powerful Absorbents

Offensive Breath and Stomach Gases Cannot Exist When They Are Used.

Charcoal, by virtue of its porous nature, takes up gases mechanically just as a sponge takes up water. Its capacity in this respect is in proportion to the number and fineness of its pores. Charcoal made from popular, beechwood, vegetable ivory, cocoanut shells and willow-wood is a compact, heavy substance, with a metallic lustre, the pores being quite invisible.

Chemical tests of various kinds performed by expert chemists have revealed the fact that charcoal made from willow-wood is not only absolutely harmless, but that it is by far the most powerful absorbent of all kinds of gases. Certain other woods, mentioned above, are used by some manufacturers in making charcoal, and besides not being half as effective in absorbing stomach gases, have also been found to be positively harmful to the digestive system.

Willow-wood charcoal is, then, the very best for the purpose of absorbing excessive gas of the stomach, removing intestinal flatus, and purifying foul breath. Charcoal to be effective against gastric flatulency must be introduced among the gases of the stomach in the same state as when fresh from the crucible. This means of effecting this is to compress them into soluble lozenges, so that after being dissolved in the mouth and swallowed the charcoal is "set free," and at once begins its work of oxidizing and absorbing foul gases, and also, through its antiseptic properties, of purifying the entire alimentary tract.

It is definitely known that the absorbent and cleansing action of charcoal is protracted and continued through the intestinal system as well as in the stomach, and it proves beneficial there also.

In STUART'S CHARCOAL LOZENGES we have a combination remedy which readily takes precedence over all others. The charcoal used in them is the very best that can be obtained. They are composed of the finest young willow-wood, converted into charcoal by the special carbonizing Stuart Process, and before being compressed into Lozenges the powdered charcoal is rendered sweet and thoroughly agreeable to the taste by being mixed with pure honey, and the result is a product equally as palatable as candy.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges have attained a wide popularity among the people, millions of packages being sold every year. They have, over and over again, proven their efficiency as rapid and powerful absorbents of foul stomach gases, relieving and curing flatulence, belching, or the eructation of gases, and finally in the purification of offensive breath.

Buy a package of these little lozenges from your druggist for 25 cents and forward us your name and address for free sample package. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 300 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Our Week-End Clearance Sale

Every Friday and Saturday we hold special economy sales of seasonable merchandise at new low prices—small lots and broken lines—all desirable goods, but in most cases kinds that we cannot duplicate or will not re-order, and accordingly marked at quick moving figures.

These sales serve a double purpose—they not only bring forward extraordinary values, but are as well the means of keeping stocks constantly clean and fresh. Thus instead of clearance sales only semi-annually, quarterly or even monthly, we have clearances every week in the year.

JOHNSON IN NEW YORK TO MEET JEFFRIES

JOHNSON ARRIVES IN NEW YORK TO SIGN FIGHT ARTICLES WITH JEFF

was alleged to have offered $100,000 for the mill. Needless to say, Mr. Needham couldn't be located when someone thought to look him up.

When Johnson stands face to face with Jeffries to-day, he will undoubtedly be the most surprised coon in New York. Jeffries evidently believes that the big fellow is long fat, and long along the lines that Johnson showed yesterday when he mingled with Philadelphia Jack O'Brien in Quakertown some months ago.

It will be quite a shock to him when he sees before him the Jeffries of old, the man whom he has been suffering for that $15,000 would never meet him in the ring.

Jeff is now getting into the full swing of his preliminary training, so far as he can here in the city. He will put a hundred pound "dummy" in Cooper's gymnasium for twenty minutes every day, shadow-boxed and feinted Mr. Barbour into fifteen different kinds of knots in as many seconds. Mr. Barbour is quite a boxer, and has challenged Mr. Tom Berger Riddle to a bout for the amateur and society championship. He said, and then did quite a stretch through Central Park and up Riverside Drive.

Accompanied by Sam Berger, late yesterday afternoon, Jeffries again visited Mr. Morley, who confirmed the statement that he had begun the day before on the big fellow's nose. The operation was entirely successful, and Jeff had the doctor apply electricity to his left arm to take a little stiffness out of the limb.

Says Jeff Must Sign.

"Jeffries will either sign articles for a fight or not," said Johnson last night, "and which it will be I don't know. But he will do the signing if he wants to win back the title. I am away when he retired and which I won. Colin Dunn's Boras," said Johnson.

"I have been among Jeffries all over the country for months. Any time there is any travelling to do I am ready to do it. I have travelled all the way from California across the country to discuss him. Sometimes I am almost compelled to believe that he is a fake, and never intends to reenter the ring. There are some days when the public does not know what to make of him. Before it is simply getting all the advertising out of it he can for the benefit of his theatrical career.

"Jeffries must attach his name to articles of agreement and make a deposit to bind same. He appreciates in the ring as I will go ahead and sign theatrical engagements and pass the up.

"I am anxious to complete arrangements for the Jeffries match. The big negro said: 'Any fair terms will suit me.' There will be no cause for bickering on that score. It will have to be a match in which to consider the arrangements, however, as I must be back in the big city in time to box Ketchel.

"I am ready to make a side bet of $5,000 or $10,000 on the match and I'll back Johnson to outbox the other to the big match will be pulled off."

With a cold stiff smile Johnson showed great satisfaction. "That is sure Hot stuff," the conqueror of Tommy Burns said.

JEFF MIXES WITH SOCIETY BOXER IN GYM WORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Jim Jeffries had the unquent pleasure of working out in the gym yesterday with a giant society man, taller and larger in many respects than himself. Warren Barbour, the son of Colonel Barbour, the millionaire thread man of Franklin street, and standing six feet three and a half inches in his stocking feet, came into the gym just about the time Jeff was stripping for his daily two-hour workout. Barbour, who has certainly had himself well athletically, has been a box fan considerably of the "dope," has been seeking quietly at Cooper's Gymnasium in West Forty-seventh street, in preparation for the impending struggle with Philadelphia's fistic bad man of a year ago.

Jeff observed Warren Barbour and invited him to share in the day's work. Big Jim and Barbour went to the mat's inner circle, where they tugged with might and main for a full half hour. Barbour is twenty-one years old, and tips the scales at 200 pounds, and looked quite young. They bore out on the wrestling mat. Jeffries' muscles were harder and at all points trained than society's representative. They tossed the medicine ball back and forth, then jumped the double rope, and finally across the gym floor. They also punched the smallest bag between times until the anchor rope was all but torn out.

Jeff was amazed at the spryness of the big society man, and asked him to come to-day for more. Jeff will put the gloves on with him, if the latter's recently injured eye is entirely healed.

James J. took his newly found gym mate to one side, and they were seen swapping pointers for several minutes.

Jeff worked splendidly yesterday. He played fast handball with Jack Cooper, and he gave the professor a hard time. He also gave Jeff a hard time on the green on the long fish hole shots he showed up back of it. Jeffries made four fifth in one, one when the hole was 475 yards long. Jeff is getting as near to possible how to do better than get on the green in five, as the drive does not get the terrific roll of the ground.

George Wright could not have picked out a better day for his tourney than yesterday as it was one of those perfect Fall days that are so welcome to the enthusiastic golfer. Only enough of a cool breeze was in evidence to make a good day for the contestants, and the sun shone brightly all day long. The course was in fine condition, and the players were here record the fifty-two strokes for the round, which is one over the par mark, and the course very hard to play when it is a struggle against the wind all the way around.

Henry Hayne of the Commonwealth Country Club is a very enthusiastic golfer and gets in a good many rounds of play as well as a spectator. He was one of the players who started in the handicap tourney at the Country Club and Brae Barn, also, on Saturday last.

Saturday has been set aside for the second reunion of the Revere golf team, which is composed of a number of Massachusetts and New York players who hold membership in the Revere Club of Massachusetts. This is a return contest which was given the Boston players in New York last month, and it is expected that the twenty-five members will be present.

PITCHER WILLETT WANTS A DIVORCE

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 28.—Tired of married life, E. Edgar Willett, pitcher of the Detroit baseball team, has commenced action in the Circuit Court for divorce. His wife was filed yesterday. The suit and all the records pertaining to it are suppressed. It is understood that no other person is mentioned in connection with the affair, which seems to be merely a case of disappointment from the time the knot was tied. Willett was married in Windsor a year ago. He has not lived with his wife for some time.

Miss Dorothy Campbell left Revere yesterday after paying over nine of its best courses, namely Myopia, Brae Burn, Oakley and the Country Club. She played Myopia in 94, Brae Burn and the Country Club in 96 and 97 and Miss Campbell and partner got around Oakley in 89, showing perfectly splendid golf, and three tourneys for her.

H. L. Dexter, Jr., of Brae Burn has established two precedents at his home club that will remain unbroken for all time to say this course with a mid-iron in his hand and drive to the edge of the first green on the long fish hole shoot to see his ball bound back. C. L. Appleton made the fifth in one, one when the hole was 475 yards long, but it is impossible for any human being to do better than get on the green in five, as the drive does not get the terrific roll of the ground.

COFFROTH HOPES TO LAND BATTLE FOR HIS CLUB

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Jim Coffroth has every confidence that he will bind the Jeffries-Johnson fight for his club in Colma, California, and if he shouldn't will be the most disappointed man who ever promoted a fight. He says every person who has ever mentioned in connection with the affair, which seems to be merely a case of disappointment from the time the knot was tied. Willett was married in Windsor a year ago. He has not lived with his wife for some time.

Mutt Is the Busy "Kid"

Mutt is so busy in the New York campaign that the above is all he could find time to make for this issue of the American. But no matter how busy he may be, Mutt still tries to dope 'em out.

KID GOODMAN IN GOOD SHAPE

Kid Goodman, the Ghetto champ, is in fine shape for his bout to-morrow night at Lynn with Young Bonaboe at Manchester is to take place. He looks to be in great shape and he is brimful of confidence that he will win.

Jimmy Gardner sparred with him at the National Athletic Club and Flag put up a good six-round bout. Gardner predicts a victory for Goodman, and he is pretty clever himself, so he ought to know what he is talking about.

"The Ghetto champion has rested well and has not nursed himself," said the Lowell boy, "and judging from the way that he has been sparring with me I am satisfied that he can whip Bonaboe. Besides, McFarland or any other man who can make the lightweight limit."

"He is as strong as a young bull and is hitting hard and often. I am going along to Bonaboe him, and I feel sure that the Kid will whip Bonaboe."

STRAIGHT DOPE
FOR SPORT FANS

A GOODLY BUNCH OF BOSTON BOXing fans will journey to Lawrence to-night to see Al. Delmont and Freddie O'Brien fauss each other up for the entertainment of the members of the Unity Cycle Club. This will be the first appearance of Delmont in the ring since he bowed Tommy O'Toole at the Armory Club last Spring, and his friends predict that the long rest will return him the winner before the expiration of the twelve rounds. O'Brien is at his best and has been training recently with Matty Baldwin. The boys weigh in at 122 at three o'clock, and figure it any way you want to, I'm willing to lay a small wager that it will be a warm number from start to finish, and will be well worth seeing.

JEFF HANDED HIMSELF A HOT ONE in his own story of his first fight with Fitz, printed in the AMERICAN Sunday morning. The big fellow was in a reminiscent mood and after paying a compliment to the hitting ability of Ancient Robert, said:

"But at that time I don't think he ever would have beaten me, for to tell you the truth it was practically impossible to really hurt me or knock me in my prime."

Do you rap to that "in my prime." Let's see, how long ago was that? June 9, 1899 —that's more than ten years ago. And Jeff in his prime then? Sam Berger had better keep watch on the big fellow or he will let his foot slip and tip us off to something. He will make a fool of the fellow pay the Californian to place when he hooks up with Johnson.

FRANK MALONEY, THE WEST SIDE youngster, who lost a decision to Kid Lee at Salem the other night, is after Lee again and offers to box him before any club, winner take the entire purse. Young Maloney made a hit with the Salem fans by his gameness, and not a few thought he should at least have been given a draw. He wants to take on Teddy Murphy at the same terms.

MIKE TWIN SULLIVAN IS TRYING to make a match for his brother Jack with Stanley Ketchel, and says he will make the Michigan mine a present of $500 if he will give Jack another bout. It is recorded in the dope books that Ketchel knocked Jack out in the 20th round the last time they met, but the Sullivan twins claim that Jack lost the fight on a foul, and that the referee, one of Billy Roche's worst enemies. Mike is also trying to hook Jack and Billy Papke together in a match, and says he is a cinch that Jack will be handed by the Armory Club within the next few months.

TEDDY MURPHY, THE 105-POUND amateur champion, who has recently entered the professional ranks, is on the way to Boston. He says he has been looking for many youngsters who can take his measure that he will give all a chance one after the other before any of the boxing clubs in or about Boston. He says he would like to take Frank Maloney on next and then the others, and declares that they won't come too fast for him. He also says that a matter of a few pounds one way or other he is also of French and Irish de

O'BRIEN MAY GET WIN ON AL DELMONT

There is a swell bout to-night in Lawrence at the Unity Cycle Club. Albert Delmont and Freddy O'Brien meet in a contest for twelve rounds. The match will be a warm argument, for O'Brien has the promise that if he should win he will get a chance against the winner of the Tommy O'Toole-Jimmy Walsh battle. So Freddy will force Delmont to his very limit. The more Delmont is forced the better and the fiercer he contests. So it should be a rattling mix-up.

It is the best fistic offering for the public of the Merrimac Valley ever made, and the sporting men of Lawrence, Haverhill and Lowell will be at the ringside. It is expected that the clubhouse will be taxed to its utmost capacity, for the popular assessment idea prevails.

Despite the fact that Delmont is an international ring character, and with a world-wide reputation, it is surprising to note how many pick O'Brien to defeat him.

JESSE TANNEHILL GETS SIGNED UP

NEWPORT, O., Oct. 28.—Jesse Tannehill, erstwhile "Big Leaguer," with Boston and Washington, has taken unto himself, and very slyly, a bride.

She was Miss Belinda Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson of Dayton, Ky., and very wealthy people. Jesse and Miss Anderson were married in Covington, Monday evening, and Tuesday evening they went to Chicago to spend their honeymoon. They will return in two weeks to live in Dayton, Ky. $1000 TO CHARITY

A Challenge to the tailoring trade of the city. A challenge particularly directed at the so-called "big tailors"—the tailors who are supposed to carry big stocks of woolens. Will they take it up?

If I cannot show in my Washington street store at the present time more woolen styles than are to be found in any three other tailoring establishments combined—I will pay one thousand dollars in cash to any charity designated.

My decision to issue this sweeping defi is taken only after an exhaustive examination of the stock recently purchased by me from the Alden H. Weed Company of New York on their retirement from business. The Weed purchase is to be counted not in the hundreds of yards, but in thousands. It's an entire woolen house line. And it was noted in New York as being one of the choicest lines in that city. The stock I selected from the stock I myself own in this store, this purchase gives me the greatest stock of woolens I have ever had.

I have more woolens—fine woolens (the kind that ordinarily sell at $35 to $45 a suit or overcoat)—more styles of them than any three other Boston tailor shops can show. And I won't qualify these statements in any respect. One thousand dollars stands as a forfeit.

YOU HIGH-PRICED TAILORS WHO CARRY BIG (?) STOCKS—TAKE UP THIS CHALLENGE IF YOU CAN.
YOU SKEPTICS WHO HAVE DOUBTED THE TRUTH OF MITCHELL ADVERTISING—I AM GIVING YOU FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

If you would consider this advertisement to be militant—remember, please, that it is so of necessity. Breaking down established precedent is not "kid gloved" work by any means. And precedent is what I have been forced to battle with for a dozen years. You have been paying high prices to your tailor and don't believe that I can make you a suit or overcoat at the prices I advertise. I am going to prove to you that I can.

I shall make a display of the Alden H. Weed stock in my doorway this morning, where you can examine it without solicitation. And in the display will be suitings and overcoatings that cost from $3 to $6 a yard, bought in the ordinary manner. Make a selection yourself. My price will be $9.00 for suit or overcoat—made to your order.

Your attention is especially called to the overcoatings. Many of them are from the looms of Crombie, the foremost weaver of overcoatings in England—(and in the world).

and OFFERED Friday and Saturday

AT HALF OFF REGULAR RETAIL PRICES

Our buyers, always keenly alert for extraordinary purchasing opportunities, saw the "selling-out notice" reproduced herewith, and immediately made this manufacturer an offer for his entire stock and as shown by the wonderful values listed below, ROBERT GERSON, No. 771 Broadway, New York, accepted our offer of 50% off his lowest wholesale prices.

Mr. Gerson's reason for taking this heavy loss is this: He wished to retire from business at once, and his place of manufacturing had already been rented, he must dispose of his goods or move them to other quarters. To save the expense of moving, and close the entire deal, he sold every suit and coat he had to us at exactly half the wholesale cost prices.

Every suit and coat in this entire stock, well known as "Boulevard Clothes, is brand new, just made up for this Fall and Winter's trade, including Suits and Overcoats for Men, Youths, Boys and Children. Every garment is hand tailored from handsome, reliable, all wool materials, and made as only the best workmen can produce them

RETIRING FROM CLOTHING BUSINESS

Boston Smart Set Members Plunging Into Out-Door Sport With New Vigor

By ELIZABETH ELLIOTT.

Again the smart ones are plunging with renewed energy into the invigorating life of out-door sports. The cool, crisp autumnal days are responsible for the revived interest and life in the open is pursued with dogged determination and evident enjoyment.

Then, too, the wise ones know this to be the one grand method of storing up energy and vitality sufficient to last through the strenuous season of dances, dinners and afternoon teas which will soon be on in earnest.

So with this in mind, hunting, horse shows, coaching, motoring, polo, golf and tennis are being indulged in to the limit, and both debutantes and matrons are acquiring a bloom warranted to withstand the wear and tear of countless pink teas and cotillions.

Interest in these sports seems to centre in the Berkshires, though at the Country Club in Longwood tennis and golf still hold their own.

Aside from the sporting events and the weddings to-day society will have an added interest in the lecture which Dr. Richard C. Cabot of Marlboro street is to give at the home of Mrs. Charles Peabody of Beacon street, Cambridge.

That the interests of Boston society women are far broader than those of the average fashionable matron is evidenced over and over again by the keen interest she takes in all philosophical, charitable and general educational movements. Dr. Cabot's talk, to-day is on "Social Service in Hospitals" and society will be out en masse to hear him.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Skinner and the latter's sister, Miss Carr, are planning to sail for England next month from New York to pass the entire Winter abroad. Mr. and Mrs. Skinner have spent the greater part of the Summer at their island home on their handsomely appointed yacht, the Constellation, and most of the time they had several friends on board.

Among the weddings that take place in Greater Boston to-day the most important is that of Miss Edith Carleton, daughter of Mrs. William F. Carleton of Beacon street, to Arthur G. Mitton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Mitton of Beacon street, Brookline. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride's mother and is followed by a large reception at the Hotel Somerset at 8 o'clock. After the wedding trip the young couple go to Brookline to live.

Another wedding which takes place here is that of Miss Marie Josephine Plehoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Appleton of Brookline, to Harold Coffin Dalton of New York City.

The Rev. Philip M. Rhinelander, who has been living in Cambridge and has been professor in the Divinity School of Harvard University, has just been elected to a high position in New York, that of Dean of Trinity Chapel. Mr. Rhinelander belongs to one of the best old New York families and is a son of the late Frederick Rhinelander. Mrs. Rhinelander is a sister of W. Pierson Hamilton, who married a daughter of J. Pierpont Morgan.

Mr. Rhinelander is well known in Washington as well as in New York and Boston, for he was associated several years with the late Bishop Satterlee of Washington and indeed one of his relatives, Frederick W. Rhinelander, has recently become engaged to Miss Constance Satterlee, who is a daughter of the late Bishop.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cushing have closed their residence in Newport and have gone to New York for the season.

Cards have just been received from Mr. and Mrs. George Albert Berry announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Agnes Berry, to Stephen Henry Monroe. Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Henry Monroe will be at home on the evening of Tuesday, November 3, from 8 till 10 o'clock, at No. 12 Claremont Park.

A wedding of considerable interest here, because of the connections of the bride and bridegroom, takes place in Dorchester to-day when Miss Sarah Hobson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Henry Hobson, becomes the bride of Thomas Cowin, the grandson of the late Thomas Groom of this city and nephew of the late Mrs. Francis Parkman Denny and of Mrs. Charles L. Hutchins of Concord.

Mrs. Stanley McCormick who, with her mother, Mrs. Wirt Dexter of Common wealth avenue, spent the Summer at Marion, has recently bought a house there which for a number of seasons has been occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John Converse Gray.

Dr. and Mrs. George R. Rice are again at their town house on Newbury street after spending the Summer at their cosy home in Hingham.

When Mrs. Julia Ward Howe returns to her home on Beacon street her son Henry and her daughter, Mrs. and Mrs. John Elliot, will be with and will remain her guests for an indefinite time. They have not decided on the date of their return to Italy. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott have been spending part of the season with Mrs. Howe at her Summer home in Rhode Island.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Parkman Shaw close their country place in Lenox to-day. They will return to their town home on Marlboro street this afternoon for the Winter.

Mrs. George W. Armstrong of this city was among yesterday's arrivals in the Berkshires. She is stopping at the Curtis Hotel in Lenox.

Miss Gladys Avery of Boston was one of the bridesmaids at the wedding yesterday in New York of Miss Martha Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Walker, and Arthur Taylor Parton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Parton, also of New York.

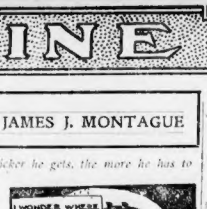
At the Lenox flower show yesterday Mrs. George Westinghouse was awarded the prize for orchids. Her only exhibit was a specimen orchid lady's slipper. Grand Footman received the first award for chrysanthemums and Mr. John E. Parsons got the silver cup offered by Henry James for the best collection of vegetables. The second day of the show had even a better attendance than did the first one, and was graced with magnificent displays from the gardens and conservatories of the surrounding country.

Ambassador and Mrs. James Bryce are expected at the embassy in Washington to-morrow. With them will be Mrs. Bryce's sister and niece, Mrs. Ashton and Miss Ashton, who will be entertained by them for some time in Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Bryce have been visiting in Massachusetts since their departure from North Harbor in Maine.

Alas! the Poor Criminal By JAMES J. MONTAGUE

A thief, recently caught, says that stealing is a disease; the sicker he gets, the more he has to steal.—News Item.

WHEN Clarence the Cashier is ill, a secret louging fills his breast
To tap his dear employer's till, and take a freight train for the West.
When he is indiscreet at meals or suffers from a tummy ache,
He digs into the safe and steals most anything a man can take.
Yet Clarence knows it's very wrong to gather such ill-gotten wealth
He's honest as the day is long—when he's enjoying perfect health.



When Slungshot Jimmy takes a cold, which happens nearly every week,
He also takes somebody's gold, and, while he's taking, takes a sneak.
And when he breaks into a bank and pilfers everything he sees,
The luckiest losers have to thank the ravages of some disease.
Jim regularly turns his trick, and has a store of treasure hid.
He only steals when he is sick—but he's a chronic invalid.

When Rastus Johnson's eyelids droop, and he is far from feeling right,
It means a certain chicken coop will have a visitor that night.
And when upon the poultry farm they mourn a fat and vanished hen,
They tell each other in alarm: "Poor Rastus has been sick again!"
Though now and then a missing hen is not a cause for panic, still
There isn't any telling when he may get desperately ill!

We used to cherish the belief that when a person robbed or stole
We ought to label him a thief, and think he had a crooked soul.
But now no longer do we feel that thugs and hold-up men need jailing;
We realize they only need and burglarize because they're ailing.
And, sad at heart and ill at ease, with present dread and future fears,
We note the spread of dire disease among our foremost financiers.

Advice to the Lovelorn---By Beatrice Fairfax

MAY NOT HAVE THEM

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I had been keeping company with a young man for about a year—it is now nearly a year since I have seen him—and we parted on account of a slight misunderstanding. I hear now that he is keeping company with another girl.

Now I have a great many friends that he is quite intimate with, and I would not put him past showing the letters he received from me at the time I went with him.

Would you advise me to write and ask him to return my letters or would you think it best to do nothing in the matter. REGINA.

It is not likely that he has kept your letters all this time, but if you feel on easy about them you might write and ask him to return them. I do not think you need worry. Never say anything on paper which you would be ashamed to have read.

PERHAPS HE DID

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

For two years I have been keeping company with a young man who is not as well situated as I am and who I believe has hardly any prospects. Over a very small matter we quarreled and since then he hasn't spoken to me. I thought I was very much in love with him, but have found out it was only a fancy. Will you kindly advise me as to whether you think he loved me or not, as he was very attentive to me. J. A. N.

POSSIBLY he did love you, but as you have parted and you say you have no care for him it is useless to speculate on how he felt. It is to be hoped, however, that his love was not greater than yours, and in that case nobody's heart will suffer very deeply.

The Day When My Dreams Come True

By SARA HAMILTON BIRCHALL.

THE tall ships lie at anchor,
The white ships go abroad;
Their candles burn by the holy sun
For the mercy of the Lord.

The ships come in from the roaring seas,
The ships come in from the blue,
With silk and silver and gold and wines,
And wealth of king and Jew.

The anchor falls beside the wharf,
The owner stands at ease,
And rullies to see his goods come in
That came from overseas.

'Tis not my ship. Let the boatswain call
And the sailors haul with a will;
I whistle between my teeth on the wharf,
And scan the low sea-hill.

I watch the white of each rising sail
And think perhaps it has come at last,
The day when my dreams come true—

When my ship lifts over the harbor bar,
My ship that I always knew,
With her barefoot sailors singing loud
The day that my dreams come true.

I know each knot of her cordage brown,
Each curve of her graceful keel;
I know her blazoned golden name,
And the motto carved by her wheel.

All day I lean on the rotting wharf
And watch the ships come in;
They are not mine I know, but yet,
Some day my dream will win.

Ah, sweet it is when the silver sails
Heave up on the singing blue,
For then I dream that my day has come,
When my dearest dreams come true.

Wide Variety of Good Offerings for Boston Patrons of the Theatres

Harry Lauder's single week at the American Music Hall is crowding that house from door to gallery with enthusiastic admirers.

The John Craig Stock Company is showing its versatility this week through a creditable presentation of "Hamlet."

Van Biene, the 'cellist, charms Keith's Theatre audiences by his 'cello playing. This is Annette Kellerman's final week at Keith's.

"The Candy Shop" is on its final week at the Tremont, to be succeeded Monday by "The Love Cure," with Line Abarbanell and Charles J. Ross.

Anna Held and "Miss Innocence" leave the Colonial Saturday night. Monday Elsie Janis comes in "The Fair Co-Ed."

James T. Powers in "Hanava" has only this week to run at the Majestic. Lew Fields's new musical play, "The Rose of Algeria" begins Monday.

This is the final week of William Collier in "The Patriot." The Hollis stage Monday will be held by Grace George in "A Woman's Way."

S. H. Dudley and "The Smart Set" company of fifty come to the Grand Opera House Monday in "His Honor the Barber," succeeding the present week's offering, "Arizona."

"The Blue Mouse" is drawing crowds at the Globe. The bright comedy work of Maud Raymond and her clever company is applauded.

"A Gentleman from Mississippi" at the Park delights not only with its comedy spirit, but with the political lessons it deftly conveys.

"Three Twins," with its songs, dances, beautiful stage pictures and colorful costumes, is drawing heavily at the Boston Theatre.

Miss Edythe Ketchum and Frederick Van Rensselaer have the leading roles in "The Cotton King" at the Bowdoin Square Theatre this week.

To-morrow night the amateurs will be seen at the Columbia Theatre, following the regular burlesque of the Fay Foster company.

"Irving, Women and Song," in its original burlesque form, is proving one of the most attractions of the season at the Howard Athenæum.

The pantomimic dances of Mlle. Minerva Stg. Feeyard and Edna Bell are high lights in the bill at the Jacobs & Paris Queen City of the Gaiety.

"Peter" McNally's travel talk is one of the hits of the New Palace bill. The fact that "Peter" is a Boston product adds interest to it.

Captain Sidney Hinman's troupe of life-saving dogs are interesting features of Austin & Stone's Museum bill for the week.

The Hanlons in comedy talk and gymnastics, and Dave Vine, character comedian, are on the Bon Ton bill today.

Tom Collins, the "Newspaper's Friend"; William English, in "Hamlet," and Miss Minnie Harnish, soloist, are at Scenic Temple this week.

"The Uplifting of Mr. Barker" will be presented by the Dramaweavers at the Theatre Pioneer for the remainder of the week.

Maude Scott, in song and story; Al Monte, black face; and Sid Williams, eccentric comedy, lead on the Pastime Theatre's program.

TO-DAY'S STOCK MARKETS

READING AND STEEL STRONG

GOOD COPPER TONE TO-DAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—A good demand for stocks obtained in Wall street to-day, and prices advanced an average of a point during the early trading, under the leadership of Steel, Reading and Southern Pacific. Interborough-Manhattan shares were conspicuous for their strength, and rumors were circulated that the elevated and subway lines were earning enough to pay five per cent. on the preferred stock. Edwin Hawley is also said to have purchased a large block of the shares recently.

One favorable influence on the general market was the failure of the Bank of England to increase its minimum discount rate. Wall street took this to mean that the English situation is in much better shape than last week.

STATE STREET, Oct. 28.—Copper shares displayed a good tone this forenoon, although the market lacked animation. It is generally remarked at the luck of selling while any demand readily causes advances. A one-half pound advance in the price of copper warrants in London this forenoon gave an element of strength to the situation. This is emphasized by the fact that the Guggenheim interests are pretty well sold out of copper, and the trend is in a position to take up offerings.

Amalgamated sold ex-dividend today and rose from 81⅞ to 82⅞. The company pays 2 per cent. and in view of the persistent strength of the stock the street is speculating if the price will be run up and then the dividend increased, as was done in the case of Steel common stock. The latter stock rose a point to 89⅛.

Superior & Pittsburg had a point and over advance during the forenoon to 19⅞, and North Butte also rose a point to 58¼. Calumet & Hecla was up to 650 and United States Smelting, preferred to 54. Consolidated Arizona and Nevada Utah sold together at 1½.

WINTER HELPS TO BEAUTY— Mme. Cavallieri will tell what to do to prevent the rigorous climate injuring your complexion. Read the Sunday American.

COTTON SOARS TO RECORD PRICES

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Record prices for the year were made on the New York Cotton Exchange to-day in one of the liveliest sessions of the season. Trading was unusually active. At 11.30 o'clock the January option was quoted at 14.63 to 14.64, more than ten points above yesterday's close March and 14.67 to 14.68, seven points up, and May was 14.78, about eleven points up. The other options were proportionately strong.

DROP A CENT, GET KILLED TO ORDER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—As an innovation in the uses to which slot machines may be put, Rev. Dr. Donald Guthrie of Baltimore suggested the latest and most radical. While talking at the session of the Presbyterian Synod of Baltimore, he said: "Life has become so meaningless and so useless to some that I advocate the setting up a suicide machine, where one can deposit a cent and be killed easily and respectably."

CURLEY CHARGES TO GRAND JURY SOON?

The Grand Jury next week may be called upon to probe into the charges made by Alderman James M. Curley that former superintendent of Streets James Donovan and other politicians were on the payroll of the New England Sanitary Company. District Attorney Hill now has the case in hand to pass upon, and he to-day declined to state what action he proposed to take.

You see the AMERICAN everywhere—in the homes, clubs, restaurants, hotels, cars and boats.

SAVES WIFE FROM DEATH ON VOYAGE

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Mrs. Ilfram S. Waters, wife of the manager of the Board of Trade office of the Postal Telegraph Company in Chicago, and with her husband a passenger on the White Star liner Teutonic, which arrived to-day after a tempestuous passage, had a narrow escape from being washed overboard by a huge wave. She was saved by her husband as the wave was about to dash her over the taffrail.

SAXONIA DELAYED BY HEAVY WEATHER

The Cunard line steamship Saxonia, which was due in Boston to-day, is encountering rough weather. A wireless dispatch received from Captain Benison to-day states that his position at 8 o'clock last night was 325 miles east of Boston light. She has traveled less than 500 miles in two days.

GARY DENIES WALSH RAILROAD REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—"There is absolutely no truth in the story that the United States Steel corporation has purchased the railroads controlled by T. H. Walsh," declared E. H. Gary, chairman of the steel directors' committee, to-day, "and no one else has taken over the roads, I have no idea."

Nothing succeeds like circulation. The AMERICAN has quantity and quality.

LOST BROTHERS IN WRECK.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 28.—Wilson and M. Galloway, formerly of Scotland, but now of Culpepper, arrived here to-day to be joined that his two brothers, R. H. and John M. Galloway, who were en route here from Glasgow to visit him, had gone down with the steamer Hesita on the New Brunswick coast.

BOSTON CURB MARKET.

How to Use the WASHINGTON STREET TUNNEL

The Washington Street Tunnel, between Haymarket Square on the north and Eliot and Kneeland Streets on the south, has eight stations. These stations with their thirty entrances and exits amount to almost a continuous station under Washington Street. From them it is only a few steps to retail stores, business offices, hotels, theatres, public buildings, its institutions, courts, historic buildings and points, banks, banking houses, clubs, newspaper offices, the Post Office, the Relief Hospital, the markets, churches, and other places of resort. Indeed, there are nowhere else in the world so many points of equal interest so accessible as to any rapid transit thoroughfare.

Yet many do not appreciate the availability of these stations. Ma Many do not know where to find the entrances most convenient for their own use, and others are unaware of the superiority of this line over someone of the surface lines.

In order that our patrons may have a better knowledge of the fa facilities supplied by this Tunnel, we are publishing information concerning each of the stations.

The Republican Party Bosses and the State House Lobby

Here is the CONNECTION between the Republican party bosses and the notorious lobby that has infested the Massachusetts State House: Congressman Augustus P. Gardner, son-in-law of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, declared in a speech at Haverhill that "any man would accept the support of J. Otis Wardwell if it were tendered him."

J. Otis Wardwell—familiarly known as "Jake," and as "the king of the State House Lobby," is the man who DIRECTS THE LEGISLATIVE AND POLITICAL EXPENDITURES OF BIG PUBLIC-SERVICE CORPORATIONS. He is at the State House every day during the legislative session; he appears before committees; he watches the doings of legislators from the House and Senate galleries; he is a "good fellow" at the hotels, and he is "pleased to meet" legislators at his law office.

For many years Wardwell has been a member of the Republican State Committee. This year he was defeated for re-election to the State Committee in the convention that nominated Representative Arthur D. Nason of Haverhill for Senator. Boss Lodge had ordered his Essex County crew to PUT AN END to Nason's political career, because Nason was the biggest supporter of direct nomination bills, popular election laws and other things that voters who are not in the clutch of the Republican State machine are in favor of.

Down in Haverhill, where they know Wardwell so well that they lifted him out of public life, the voters are angry at Gardner's speech. They are amazed at his insolence in asserting that ANY MAN WOULD ACCEPT THE SUPPORT OF WARDWELL. The independent element of the Republican party in Essex County insists that it WOULD NOT accept the support of Wardwell; that it wants none of the Wardwell kind of political influence and support: that it is not ready to accept political support on condition that it obey the orders of special privilege-seeking corporations. And the support of Wardwell means just that.

The Democratic party, in its platform, has made a strong declaration AGAINST THE STATE HOUSE LOBBY. It has called for the wiping out of this corrupting drag on legislation.

James H. Vahey, candidate of the Democratic party for Governor, during his two years in the Senate made a vigorous fight against lobbyism. He has declared that, if elected Governor, he would see to it that the lobby's sinister practices would be discontinued during his administration. Eugene N. Foss, the candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, has taken the same attitude. He believes in legislation FREE FROM THE DEBAUCHING HAND OF LOBBYISM.

The Republican party has not declared against State House lobbyism. Until within a few days Congressman Gardner has been in charge at the Republican State Committee headquarters. He has been carrying out the campaign plans for Draper and Frothingham. His ENDORSEMENT of the so-called "king of the State House Lobby" may well be interpreted by every right-thinking voter as an endorsement of lobbyists and lobbyism.

Help the Y. M. C. A. Fund

If YOU have not yet given something to the Y. M. C. A. building fund, do so to-day. You know how urgent is the need. You know what your duty is. No matter how small the sum, give it at once.

Only a few more days remain to obtain the necessary amount. Boston needs the Y. M. C. A. Every dollar contributed now will come back to this great city a thousand fold.

Therefore, the American asks you to do YOUR DUTY. Give now! Give as freely as you can!

LETTERS FROM AMERICAN READERS

WOMEN, TAKE NOTE

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

In reply to Barbara Helen I would say I have been a patron of street cars for over twenty years and have never seen an old woman standing on the rear of a car and men smoking. If the white-plaster, brainless creature persists in coming home at the same hour as the workingmen and schooling him for a place, she is entitled to consideration. A lady will be treated as a lady, be it on a street car or wherever she may be. Do not worry about the good, sensible woman, Barbara Helen; she is entitled to all the love and respect, and she gets it abroad and in her own home.

CHARACTER IN FACE

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

I have often read your editorials in the AMERICAN and seen your opinion on different subjects. Here is something I would like to see your opinion on. Do you believe that the facial expression of a man denotes his character, by that I mean, a man with a strong face always has a strong character and the man with a weak face the opposite? I know two young men who have often made me think about this two for a mod. strong face and you would naturally expect a strong character there, and yet he says one thing and does another. The other young man has not what you would call a strong face, but his word is as good as gold, and anything he puts his mind to he makes a good job out of. This might seem narrow minded to you, as it is only two cases, but I would like to see your opinion on it.

"CUT OUT" CAR SMOKING

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

A moderate smoker myself, yet I am hesitating back up your correspondent Barbara Helen that it is not only "an outrage against womanhood," but also against manhood, to smoke, not only in closed cars, but also open cars, which when the wind blows through the car, makes the smoke almost as much of a nuisance.

I never at home or abroad impose my second hand smoke upon any one.

When I get to the point that I can't ride on the electrics, without smoking, it means I quit. I wonder that the management of the roads allow it.

Yours, NICK O' TIME.

What Party Designations Amount To

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

In considering the abolition of party designations which is one of the most important changes to be brought about if Plan Two is adopted, it is necessary to consider just what party designations mean in municipal politics.

The average citizen of Boston is a Democrat or a Republican, as the case may be, because he believes in the principles of the party of which he is an adherent.

When it comes to a question of the fitness of a candidate for municipal office he is willing to admit that no other issues are involved than those of honesty and competency. This being the case there is no reason from the standpoint of the average citizen, it seems to be, for continuing party designations on the municipal ballot.

Aside from the headquarters of either political organizations and ask the man at the desk why party designations should be continued on the ballot he is provided for under Plan One. He will say that it is necessary because the party organization must be preserved under any and all circumstances and that if the machine does not dictate the election of the Mayor and City Council it will die a natural death.

Consider what party designations means. If a man in any ward in the city wants a job it is the rule of the political machine that he first apply to the ward chairman of the ward in which he lives. If his recommendation shows that he is a good party man, that he contributes money to the fights, or works actively for the party candidates his name goes to the chairman of the City Committee. With his O. K. the candidate for the job goes to the Mayor and gets the job. And that is the reason for his getting the job? He is useful to the party and regardless of his fitness she must be taken care of.

Under this system for many years the city has been overloaded with inefficient employes. It is on record that as many as 100 men have been put to work on the city payrolls during a political campaign. It is also on record that during political campaigns city employes have been forced to contribute towards the expenses of the campaign.

This system has grown to such proportions that no Mayor of the city, no matter how strong or how honest can escape it altogether. It has got to be a condition. Remove party designations and all power or ability to political machines which exist in their sake, remove the power from their hand and foot any man who may be Mayor under the system and with a competent and honest executive, the city will get $1 in return for $1 spent.

The system described by the Finance Commission and with which every citizen is familiar is largely attributed to organized political bosses masquerading under the cloak of party.

The practical effect of the abolition of party designations will mean that some politicians will be obliged to work for a living in the future. That's all.

It will mean that the next Mayor of Boston will be free to recognize ability and capacity and that he will not be handicapped with his indebtedness to the machine and thus be forced to recognize incompetency and unfitness.

Respectfully yours,

ALBERT T. SNOW.

The Professional

By ELBERT HUBBARD

SOME way, when a man makes a profession of his art, he lowers it and himself. Nature seems afraid the man will build a Tower of Babel so high that he'll enter Paradise, and so she blocks his little game by studing him to the point of bursting with vanity so he can never get through the pearly gates.

The professional musician lives in a little world of his own, fashioning—horribly as small as an actors' universe, which means Broadway and "the provinces."

Most actors lose their real characters playing they are somebody else, and writing men who break away from the great working world of God's fallible men and women become puny little fellows of myopic vision and atrophied faculties yammering for dope, booze and cigarettes.

Shakespeare was a theatre manager, Dante an office holder Bobbie Burns a farmer, Lamb a bookkeeper, Milton a school teacher and clerk, Wadsworth a stamp agent. And I cannot recall a single individual trained and educated for a writer who ever was one.

The amateur is the man who does big things.

The great artists of earth are men who have been something else first, and something else besides professionals.

To belong to the "perfect" is to wear a number six hat and lose all consciousness of the meaning of meum et tuum. But of all professionals, none are quite so little and fussy as musicians. And to prove the assertion I'll explain that if a layman ventures a word as to his liking for music in a professional's presence he of the Fur Collar always lofty and ironically remarks, "Ah, then you play?"

The reply being in the negative, a look is given that implies you have neither a right to criticise music nor to like it.

This contempt for the layman I know exists among histrions in degree, who refer to the folks across the footlights as "rags," but not in the universal way it does among musicians.

If you express your liking for poetry no one ever thinks to ask you if you write. If you state your preference for a certain style of painting you are not supposed to apologize for the fact that you never threw a pot of color at a canvas.

But musicians have forced such a condition of timidity on the public that a man who does not perform seldom dares reveal the fact that he knows a jewhary from an accordion.

THE AUTUMN LEAVES WERE FALLING

By WILLIAM F. KIRK

A WOMAN stood within the court, holding the sad decree
Which freed her from a husband, tall and handsome as a tree.
To him she bade a fond farewell, tears in her eyes so blue.
"Please send the ten a week," she moaned, "whatever else you do!
When you proposed to me," she said, "down in the leafy wood,
I thought that you would worship me, I thought that you were good.
If I was such an awful scold, why did you wed me pray?"
He looked her bravely in the face, and unto her did say:

CHORUS:

"The Autumn leaves were falling when I saw your eyes so blue
And noted well the pointed nose contiguous thereto.
You ask why I proposed to you, and so I answer true:
The Autumn leaves were falling, so I had to fall for you?"

II.

Long years have passed since that sad day; they both are single yet,
The lady couldn't wed again—he wouldn't, on a bet.
On Autumn days they both walk out into the woodland fair,
And watch the red and yellow leaves which fall in hundreds there.
The man who made a life mistake, he very seldom grieves,
But chuckles as he gazes at the falling Autumn leaves.
The woman is repenting now, and oft her cheeks turn gray,
While thinking of them bitter words which he to her did say:

CHORUS: (Same).

Young Wife—This dish, dearest, is an original composition of my own.

Husband—Well, I should rather, my pet, that you could cook after the old masters.
